VILLAGES DESTROYED, AT LEAST 135 KILLED.

Railroad Tracks Torn Up, Churches Razed and Houses Ruined.

Earthquake and Eruption Followed by Fire, at Catania, Resembles Messina Disaster.

CATANIA, Italy, May 9.—Earthquakes and eruption, followed by fire, destroyed many villages, and, according to official reports, caused the deaths of 135 persons in the vicinity of this town, last night, besides injuring 283 others. It is regarded as probable that the figures of dead and injured will prove to be much greater, as it is thought many were buried in the ruins. The final and most disastrous earthquake had been preceded by 60 others during the past two days, and many of the population had abandoned their houses and fled into the open country.

Railroad tracks were torn up churches razed, houses shaken to ruin and telegraph poles overturned, within a radius of several miles of Catania, at the foot of Mt. Etna, the centre of disturbance. Terror-stricken people rushed from the villages into Catania, bringing stories of ruin and disaster and relating that the danger was as great as during the earthquake in 1908.

The difficulty of communication, owing to the interruption of railroads and telegraphs, made it impossible to obtain an accurate estimate of the damage and loss of life.

The earthquake greatly resembled that at Messina in 1908, and it is already known that the damage was enormous. The gravity of the disaster was not realized until this morning, when reports came in from surrounding country.

The villages of Linera and Cosentini were transformed into heaps of ruins.

At Zafferana every house was destroyed.

Enormous damage was caused at Santa Venerina.

Roofs fell in and walls collapsed in the hamlets of Santa Maria, Ammalati, Carico, Guardia, Mangano, Santa Teola and Bongiardo.

The village of Santa Maria Vergine Catena was razed to the ground.

Fifty persons are known to have been killed in the destruction of the village of Linera, while among the ruins of Passopomo, Bongiardo and Malati 20 bodies have thus far been found.

In the village of Cosentini 26 bodies were discovered and at Santa Maria six.

Several hamlets in the neighborhood of Aolreale also were devastated and a number of people were killed and injured.

In many cases the rescuers found their way to the villages obstructed by broken bridges and ruined roads, while heaps of debris lay everywhere in the village streets.

Prefect Minervini of Catania and all the officials under his superintendence were called together early today and given orders to do all in their power to aid the afflicted inhabitants. They have since worked indefatigably, together with all the soldiers in the district, in the endeavor to rescue those still alive beneath the ruins, and in extricating the dead from the debris.

All the available nurses have been mobilized and are assisting in gathering the homeless and the children who lost their parents, for whom temporary shelter is being provided.

Along the roads from one village to another the scene of desolation is heartrending. Groups of people pass along carrying on improvised litters their injured and dying relatives to the temporary surgical stations. In the neighborhood of Santa Venerina the number of the injured is very large. The authorities have commandeered all available automobiles to assist in the work of rescue.

For several days past earthquake shocks had been felt at frequent intervals, accompanied by an eruption of Mt. Etna. No attention, however, was paid to the occurrences, the inhabitants of the district being accustomed to telluric agitations.

The first severe shock was felt at 7 o'clock last evening, but the fact that this had caused any destruction was not known in Catania, as railroad and telegraphic communication between the affected villages and this town had been interrupted.

The extent of the catastrophe was not realized until this morning, when terror-stricken groups of people who had escaped injury came into town bringing the tragic news with them.

The centre of the disturbance was at the village of Linera, where the dead and injured were more numerous than anywhere else, so far as could be ascertained. Those who suffered were mostly women and children. The material damage in this village also was extremely heavy.

The work of rescue was rendered difficult by the accumulation of debris and the danger of causing it to fall on those persons buried beneath, but who were still alive.

Although the material damage is very great in many other villages, it was believed by those in charge of the work of rescue that the death list would not be so heavy as was at first supposed. According to reports of some refugees, fires in some places completed the work of destruction and hindered the efforts of the rescuers.

Hundreds of telegraph posts were overturned along the roadside and 700 yards of the railroad track was destroyed near the village of Mangano.

Catania, the scene of last night's earthquake, has suffered probably more than any other city in the world from volcanic eruptions and earthquakes, owing to its proximity to the volcano of Etna. The town itself is built on a bed of lava and most of its streets are paved with the same material. The town, which has a population of 140,000, lies to the south of Messina, on the east coast of Sicily.

Ever since its foundation in B. C. 729 it has been visited frequently by earthquakes. In 121 A. D. it was partly destroyed by an eruption of Mt. Etna and in 1169 it again suffered severely by an earthquake. Once more in 1669, during an eruption of Mt. Etna, a great stream of lava flowed toward Cantania, but by some means its course was diverted and the town was saved. Twenty-four years later the whole of the north of Sicily was affected by an earthquake and Catania was destroyed.

In the earthquake and tidal wave at Messina and Calabria December 28, 1908, official figures gave the number of deaths as 77,283, but it was variously estimated that from 150,000 to 200,000 people lost their lives, while the damage to property amounted to about $1,000,000,000.

The United States took a prominent part in the relief work and with the funds placed at their disposal by the American public sailors from the United States fleet, under the direction of Captain Belknap, U. S. N., erected large numbers of houses for the people who had been rendered homeless.

ASSISTANCE FOR AFFECTED.

Officials in Rome to Give Every Aid to Earthquake Sufferers.

ROME, May 9.—On learning of the disaster at Catania today Premier Salandra, General Grandi, minister of war, and Admiral Enrico Millo, minister of marine, sent orders to the prefect of Catania and the commanders of the military and naval forces in the district to give all possible assistance to those affected by the earthquake. The concentration of the soldiers was ordered to be carried out immediately and the commanders were requested to carry with them tents, provisions, clothing and hospital supplies. The Red Cross also sent a contingent of its members to the afflicted town.

The destruction of telegraph lines and railroads rendered it difficult for the authorities to obtain details of the extent of the catastrophe, but from reports received the total of dead reached about 100 and that of the injured several times that number.

The Pope has directed Cardinal Merry del Val to send immediately to the stricken district all the help necessary.

NOT RECORDED AT HARVARD.

Sicilian Earthquake Thought to Have Been of Volcanic Origin.

CAMBRIDGE Mass., May 9.—The seismograph at the Harvard geological observatory today showed no unusual disturbance from any direction during the past 24 hours, and it was the opinion of some of the scientists that the Sicilian earthquake last night was of volcanic origin. It was explained that such earth shocks seldom extend very far beyond the immediate locality.

MUNITIONS WILL BE RETURNED TO GERMANY.

Apprehension Regarding Shipments to Huerta Averted.

Monitor Ozark Ordered to Tampico — No Movement of Troops.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—On receipt of information from American Consul Rodgers, at Havana, that munitions consigned to General Huerta on German ships would be returned to Germany as a result of action "recommanded by the agents of the vessels," Secretary of State Bryan today announced that apprehension concerning shipments of arms to the Huerta government had been averted.

The ammunition reported to have been consigned to the Huerta government was shipped on the Kronprinzessin Cecilie, which had arrived at Puerto, Mexico, and the Bavaria, now en route to the same port. Consul Rodgers announced that munitions on the Bavaria also would be returned to Germany by order of agents of the vessel.

Assistant Secretary Roosevelt announced that the State Department had satisfactorily settled issues which had arisen over the reported consignment of arms to General Huerta on board German vessels Kronprinzessin Cecilie and Bavaria, to be delivered at Puerto Mexico.

At the Navy Department announcement was made that monitor Ozark has been ordered to join Admiral Mayo's fleet at Tampico. The Ozark has light draft and two 12-inch guns and is capable of navigating the Panuco river. She is now on the way to Key West and should reach Admiral Mayo within four or five days.

Secretary of War Garrison re-asserted today that as yet no additional troops had been ordered to Mexico. When asked whether orders had been issued for the Fourth and Sixth brigades, at Texas City to make ready to embark, he replied: "They are sup-

Catania, the scene of last night's earthquake, has suffered probably more than any other city in the world from volcanic eruptions and earthquakes, owing to its proximity to the volcano of Etna. MUNITIONS WILL BE RETURNED TO GERMANY.

The South American mediators continued their sessions today They were satisfied from telegrams from Mexico City last midnight that the Huerta delegates would sail today from Vera Cruz to Galveston and proceed direct to Niagara Falls, for the conference opening on the eighteenth That the Huerta delegates actually would start today was taken as an indication that the point raised by Huerta as to the observance of the armistice had not led him to the point of withholding from the conference

Frederick H Lehmann of St Louis former solicitor general whose name has been mentioned as a possible American delegate in the mediation will arrive here today and have a conference with the President It is not stated at the White House that Mr Lehman has been selected but the impression prevails that the place has been offered to him

News that the Mexican mediators are on their way is expected to expedite the announcement of the American mission but possibly this may not be until after the return of President Wilson from the memorial services to the victims of the occupation of Vera Cruz at the Brooklyn navy yard next Monday

While interest was renewed today in the diplomatic phase of the Mexican crisis, there was no abatement of execution of the program of preparedness in the War and Navy Departments Secretary Garrison explained that he was trying to gather transports at Galveston that could be used to send the Fourth and Sixth brigades to Vera Cruz in case it is thought wise in view of a precautionary attitude to have them there Reports from Galveston today said the two brigades were ready to embark at a moment's notice

High officers of the army who have weighed the Vera Cruz situation are reported to have urged that the American lines there be extended to insure a sufficient food and water supply Other uses for re inforcements would be preparedness against any possibility of a sudden attack by Federals and readiness for a quick movement on Mexico City should the Huerta regime crumble and mob violence threaten

The South American envoys transmitted to Huerta today the reply of the American government to his protest that the United States has broken the truce by landing additional troops at Vera Cruz Secretary Bryan declared that no aggressive steps had been taken by the United States forces and that nothing had been done to violate the armistice

While the diplomatic and military phases of the international drama compelled much attention, observers turned to developments in the Huerta Carranza strife Constitutionalists expressed confidence that their troops would drive the Federals out of Tampico in the next three or four days That development it was hoped in some quarters would relieve tension over the menace to foreign property in the Tampico oil district

Reports that San Luis Potosi had been taken by rebels were not credited by Carranza's Juarez agents Fragmentary reports from the northern section of Mexico indicated that the Constitutionalist administration was moving for the resumption of industries One of Carranza's first official acts upon reaching Torreon his new temporary capital, was to order the re opening of coal mines in the state of Coahuila.

Many inquiries as to the possibility of employing state militia during the Mexican crisis were received in Washington today They were inspired by questions sent to governors of the states asking about the condition of the National Guard Indications today were that the militiamen would be used for patrol duty, if it became necessary to call them out They would relieve regular troops now on duty along the border making them available for field service

The flurry caused by the report that two steamers bearing arms and ammunition for Huerta were on their way to Puerto Mexico was quieted by the announcement that no action would be taken by the Washington government to prevent discharge of the cargoes A cablegram from Rear Admiral Badger early today stated that one of the ships the Kronprinzessin Cecilie had arrived at Puerto Mexico Friday Whether she had unloaded her cargo was not stated

FUNSTON CONFIRMS REPORT

Says Unidentified American Had Been Executed by Federals

WASHINGTON May 9—General Funston today from Vera Cruz confirmed unofficial reports that Private Parks, supposed to be insane, had been captured by Mexican Federals, into whose lines he rode with two horses belonging to Lieutenant Colonel Elmore F Taggart, with whom he served as orderly General Funston did not report that Parks had been executed, but mentioned the execution of an unidentified American civilian

CLASH NOT EXPECTED.

Washington May Take Up Killing of Private by Maas's Men.

VERA CRUZ May 9—Even if the reported execution by General Maas's men of Private Samuel Parks, the orderly missing since Wednesday, proves true army officers are inclined not to regard one such incident as likely to precipitate a clash They believe that such an act would probably be that of a subordinate officer without authority and that General Maas would be wholly ignorant of the incident until the Mexico City government asked for an explanation It is assumed here that the matter will be taken up by the authorities at Washington through the Brazilian minister at Mexico City and that the Huerta officials will make a prompt investigation General Funston deems it inadvisable to open formal communication with Maas and is therefore leaving the case of Private Parks to Washington

General Funston has asked for [illegible] brigade equipment [illegible] Galveston because of [illegible] for horses and wagons on the transports he sent forward He is also asking that recruits for regiments here now assembled at recruiting depots in the United States be shipped The equipment includes a majority of the regimental wagon trains and horses for the signal corps, Lacking these the signal corps and quartermasters department are hampered in their work about the city and the outposts

Reports from the north outposts and [illegible] aviators indicate that there are more regulars in that direction than was heretofore thought One party of 50 was seen They made no hostile demonstration and proceeded apparently without paying attention to the Americans The largest party seen northward previously was a small squad which was sighted a few days ago by an aviator

The army estimates the population of Vera Cruz including troops and American and Mexican refugees, at between 40 000 and 50 000 This is one third above normal and accounts for the water shortage Efforts to limit the water consumption are in progress Army officers report that the Mexican police are doing satisfactory work. Under the existing arrangement they handle only Mexicans while the troops take care of the cases in which soldier, sailor or foreigners are involved

BODY LIES IN STATE.

Funeral of Rev. James H. Dennis at Holy Trinity Church, Tiverton.

The funeral of Rev. James Hogarth Dennis was held at Holy Trinity Church, Tiverton, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the body having lain in state since noon. The dark oak casket was surrounded and covered with floral offerings of which the most beautiful was an immense sheath of calla lilies tied with broad white ribbon, representing his years, from Holy Trinity Church. Some of the others were a wreath of white roses tied with white gauze, Easter lilies, a spray of yellow rosebuds, wreath of galax leaves and one of dark leaves, wreath of pink and white roses and sweet peas, bouquet of daybreak pinks, several bouquets of calla lilies and ferns and lilies of the valley. On the altar were two vases of Easter lilies, smilax being festooned about them and about the casket.

At the appointed hour the vested choir came from the anteroom and took their places, Bishop Perry leading the procession of 12 clergymen and reciting "I am the Resurrection and the Life." Rev. Dr. Locke of St. Michael's assisted in the service.

Th choir sang three hymns. At the close the bearers—Messrs. Roy Beattie, George H. Waring, Andrew Cory and William D. Taylor—bore the body to the hearse, which, accompanied by his sister, Miss Jane Dennis, was to bear it to Rochester, N. Y., his old home for his final resting place.

The clergymen in attendance were, besides the Bishop and Dr. Locke, Rev. E. H. Porter of Emmanuel Church and Rev. George V. Dickey of St. George's Church Newport; Rev. Mr. Collins of the Church of the Messiah, Providence; Rev. Mr. Sheerin of St. Stephen's Church, Fall River; Rev. Anson B. Howard and Rev. Frederick W. Goodman of Portsmouth; Rev. Mr. McCoy of Trinity, Bristol; Rev. Mr. Hobbs of St. Andrews, Rev W. M. Chapin of St. John's, Barrington; Rev. Levi B. Edwards of Providence, and Rev. C. A. Meader, the diocesan missionary.

"A PAIR OF IDIOTS."

Comedy in Two Acts Presented for Benefit of Y. M. C. A. Companies.

At the Young Men's Christian Association Friday evening "A Pair of Idiots," a comedy in two acts, by Eleanor Maud Crane, was presented before a large audience under the auspices of Companies A and B, Woman's Auxiliary. The scene is the living room in Colonel Bradley's Virginia home. Act II taking place the evening of the same day as Act I. The settings for both acts were attractive and in good taste.

The play deals with the love affairs of Peter Jennings, from Arkansas (Mr. William Helme) and Miss Winifred Lester, the colonel's niece and ward (Miss Mary Austin), the original "pair of idiots." A second pair, however, comes into prominence as the play advances, Dr. George Gunther, Peter's friend (Dr. C. Edward Farnum), and Miss Gean Bradley, the colonel's daughter (Miss Rowena MacLellan), who have broken their engagement. Colonel Archibald Bradley, a hot-tempered Virginia gentleman (Mr. Fred P. Webber), and Miss Lucretia Bradley, the colonel's maiden sister (Mrs. Burnside Davis) are the third "pair of idiots" in their attempts to manage the situation.

Miss Austin was excellent as the wilful niece, Miss MacLellan did well in the quieter part of Miss Bradley, and Mrs. Davis was capital as the elderly lady who could not keep a secret, but thought she could. Mr. Webber was well cast as Colonel Bradley, giving the part a forceful presentation; Mr. Helme, as usual, was good in an essentially comedy part, and Dr. Farnum made an attractive suitor.

Music was furnished by Mr. George H. Bryant, Mr. Joseph W. Blaine, Mr. George Tubley and Mr. E. W. Toll, and home-made candy was on sale.

BRITISH POLO CHANGES.

Line-Up of New Challenging Team to be Decided by Hurlingham.

Realizing that his military polo team has not shown championship form, Lord Wimborne has decided to turn over to the Hurlingham Club the responsibility for the selection of a British team, to contest for the international trophy. This decision was followed by another series of conferences and generally was welcomed, as it is felt that it will go a long way toward eliminating the dissension in British polo circles which the indifferent form of the selected team has caused.

The result of the decision is that Lord Wimborne will continue his arrangements for financing the team and providing the ponies, but the line-up of the international cup players will be finally decided by Hurlingham, probably after the practice game between Lord Wimborne's and Mr. Walter S. Buckmaster's sides at Hurlingham.

Another blow to the make-up of Lord Wimborne's team was delivered when it became known that Major C. F. Hunter had withdrawn and will not come to America, owing to the illness of his wife.

The consensus of opinion among polo experts is that a combination with excellent chances of annexing the cup for England can be made up of Captain Leslie Cheape, Mr. F. M. Freake, Mr. Buckmaster and Major F. W. Barrett. The contest committee of the Hurlingham Polo Club has appointed a special sub-committee to form a new challenging team.

From the gossip prevalent in polo clubs it seems undoubted that personal differences militated against Lord Wimborne from the moment of the launching of his scheme, and an appeal is now being made to all supporters of polo to sink their spirit of cliquesim and come forward to help Hurlingham tide over the crisis.

AT THE SAYESA CLUB DANCE.

The dance given by the Sayesa Club in Masonic hall Friday night was attended by a large number of young people who generally participated in the program, to the up-to-date music of the Newport Mandolin orchestra. The hall was decorated with American flags and college banners, the platform being a mass of palms and flowers in baskets. During the intermission there were several songs by Messrs. Harry Hickok and Benjamin Crowell and a humorous sketch by Mr. John Horgan. The committee in charge consisted of Messrs J. Sherman McGowan, Jeremiah J. Sullivan, Arthur P. O'Sullivan, James J. Hickey, George R. O'Connor and Anatole U. Maynard.

A WHITE FOG.

[L. M. Montgomery.]

Softly we float out over this white sea,
This stirless silence, this unbroken calm,
While, afar off, the deep chants ceaselessly
Its solemn, endless psalm.

A world of mist, below, above, around,
A strange veiled sea that never finds a shore,
Dim and unpalpable, without a sound,
Save that faint, hollow roar.

And the low dip of oars that rise and fall
In that calm, glassy water, still and gray,
Or some mist-wildered sea bird's sudden call
In this white world astray.

Anon a cool air current lightly lifts
The curtain from long level wastes of sea,
And dim coasts loom unreal where drift
Mist wraiths across our lee.

Then the blank whiteness closes in once more,
To shut from us all glimpse of things that are,
As though we sought some strange, enchanted shore
Ever receding far.

So silent all, so formless, vast and dim—
We feel the charm no custom can efface,
As though we voyaged across the planet's rim
Into the depths of space.

FANCIES.

THE GERM WHICH PRODUCES DANDRUFF

Finally Causes Baldness.--Kill the Germ and Save Your Hair.--Newbro's Herpicide Will Do It

Did you ever try to discover a reason for the dying of a valuable plant? You perhaps found that life was destroyed by some insect or parasite working about the roots and sapping away the elements which go to support plant life.

The dandruff germ exercises the same destructive influence upon the life of the hair. It forces its way down the follicle around the hair bulb and thus prevents the hair from getting proper nourishment. The hair dies and drops out.

Newbro's Herpicide prevents this by killing the germ. It also frees the scalp from the accumulations of dirt and scarf skin. With the removal of these obstacles to a clean, healthy scalp, the hair will grow naturally and luxuriantly.

One dollar size bottles are sold and guaranteed by all druggists.

Applications may be obtained at the better barber shops and hair dressing parlors.

Send 10c in postage or silver to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich., for a nice sample of Herpicide and a booklet telling all about the hair.

Scalloped Chicken.

For a lunch dish, free all fragments of a roast chicken from skin and bone and cut into dice or pass through the coarsest cutter of a food chopper. Thicken the chicken gravy, using two tablespoonfuls of flour to one pint and season with salt and pepper, a few drops of onion juice and a little finely chopped parsley. Put meat and gravy in layers in individual bakers or in a large dish, sprinkle thickly with buttered crumbs and brown in a quick oven.

Strawberry Charlotte Russe.

Turn a small square tin pan upside down and rub outside lightly with a few drops of olive oil. Round it place split lady fingers a quarter of an inch apart, fastening together with icing piped on with a bag and rose end tube. When icing is firm carefully remove cake frame from the mold and set on a paper doily on a fancy plate. Fill with a charlotte mixture which has been made long enough to be on the point of setting. Stand away for an hour or so, then decorate the top with icing and garnish with a few perfect strawberries.

MASSACHUSETTS MAYORS TO MEET.

Boston will be invaded by all the mayors of Massachusetts May 20. All of them, 33 in number, have been invited to attend the banquet that evening of the Massachusetts Street Railway Association, and every one has accepted, except the mayor of Woburn, who writes that he will attend if he recovers sufficiently from his indisposition. Addresses will be made by the mayors of Boston, Worcester, Springfield, New Bedford and Salem, and by street railway officials, and it is expected that the Massachusetts city chiefs will be made thoroughly familiar with the street railway situation in the state.

Husband—To the Thousand Isles, and as a proof of my affection I will let you spend a month on each of them.—[Birmingham Age-Herald.

"Who are those two weary-looking men who both admit they are afraid to go home?"

"One," replied Miss Cayenne, "is the husband of a suffragist and the other is the husband of an anti-suffragist." —[Washington Star.

"Everything seems to be going up in price. Would you believe it, it costs almost as much nowadays to dress a child as it does a grown person?"

"I don't doubt it at all. Only yesterday I had to buy a new dog collar for Fifi and the prices have almost doubled."—[Detroit Free Press.

THE GERM WHICH PRODUCES DANDRUFF

Finally Causes Baldness.--Kill the Germ and Save Your Hair.--Newbro's Herpicide Will Do It

Did you ever try to discover a reason for the dying of a valuable plant? You perhaps found that life was destroyed by some insect or parasite working about the roots and sapping away the elements which go to support plant life.

The dandruff germ exercises the same destructive influence upon the life of the hair. It forces its way down the follicle around the hair bulb and thus prevents the hair from getting proper nourishment. The hair dies and drops out.

Newbro's Herpicide prevents this by killing the germ. It also frees the scalp from the accumulations of dirt and scarf skin. With the removal of these obstacles to a clean, healthy scalp, the hair will grow naturally and luxuriantly.

Applications may be obtained at the better barber shops and hair dressing parlors.

Send 10c in postage or silver to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich., for a nice sample of Herpicide and a booklet telling all about the hair.

Scalloped Chicken.

For a lunch dish, free all fragments of a roast chicken from skin and bone and cut into dice or pass through the coarsest cutter of a food chopper. Thicken the chicken gravy, using two tablespoonfuls of flour to one pint and season with salt and pepper, a few drops of onion juice and a little finely chopped parsley. Put meat and gravy in layers in individual bakers or in a large dish, sprinkle thickly with buttered crumbs and brown in a quick oven.

Strawberry Charlotte Russe.

Turn a small square tin pan upside down and rub outside lightly with a few drops of olive oil. Round it place split lady fingers a quarter of an inch apart, fastening together with icing piped on with a bag and rose and tube. When icing is firm carefully remove cake frame from the mold and set on a paper doily on a fancy plate. Fill with a charlotte mixture which has been made long enough to be on the point of setting. Stand away for an hour or so, then decorate the top with icing and garnish with a few perfect strawberries.

MASSACHUSETTS MAYORS TO MEET.

Boston will be invaded by all the mayors of Massachusetts May 20. All of them, 33 in number, have been invited to attend the banquet that evening of the Massachusetts Street Railway Association, and every one has accepted, except the mayor of Woburn, who writes that he will attend if he recovers sufficiently from his indisposition. Addresses will be made by the mayors of Boston, Worcester, Springfield, New Bedford and Salem, and by street railway officials, and it is expected that the Massachusetts city chiefs will be made thoroughly familiar with the street railway situation in the state.

CONSOLIDATING COMMISSIONS.

Rhode Island needs something of the kind which has been established in Ohio. Here the legislature for several years has been increasing the number of state commissions, with not much apparent benefit in either economy or efficiency. Out in Ohio the opposite course is taken, a process of consolidation of commissions being in operation. It is believed that the result will be a large increase in the efficiency of administration and at the same time a decrease in the expense of the operation of those departments of the government affected. Last autumn six departments were absorbed by a commission of three persons, which was invested with all their powers. It is too soon yet to speak authoritatively concerning the results, but there is no serious complaint of lack of benefit by the consolidation, while there are many words of praise of the new body and the work it is doing.

Under this new arrangement the commission has supervision of mills, shops, stores, telephone and telegraph companies, laundries, bakeries, hotels, railway stations, apartment houses, theatres, churches, hospitals and schools, in fact, private dwellings alone are exempt from its jurisdiction. It has power to enforce and administer all laws requiring buildings and places of employment to be safe and providing for the protection of the life, health and welfare of all employes, and to regulate hours of labor. These are wide powers to be exercised by three persons, but they concentrate responsibility and that is the object of this radical change. The country is watching this Ohio experiment, and it may have widespread results if it succeeds as well as is expected.

It must not be forgotten, however, that the success or failure of such a movement is dependent in the largest degree upon the personnel of the commission appointed to perform such important and exhaustive duties. In the Ohio case the men who constitute this board are of high standing in the state. All have been close students of labor conditions and are conversant with the issues which it is their business in their new capacity to meet. With such men powers as large as these may be considered safe, while with those of less ability and experience the bestowal of so much authority would be decidedly injurious to the state and the welfare of the people. That is the crucial point, that the men appointed to commissions must be efficient and upright, or the last condition will be worse than the first, while with such men the improvement in administration may be almost limitless.

Small commissions and fewer of them are needed in Rhode Island, where now are so numerous that their duties overlap and result in confusion and conflict of authority, such as have just now put the state in an unenviable light through the halls in the legislature over the Board of Control and Supply and the Board of State Institutions. There can be little or no question but if the members of these commissions had been of better calibre and more familiar with the duties which they were called upon to perform there would have been no such trouble as that which has rent the Assembly in these last few weeks. It is undoubtedly true, also, that with a commission of the proper kind and smaller than either of these present boards the affairs of both could be better administered than they have been of late.

GRADUATED TAXES.

It is of course equitable to make the men who have the most property pay the most taxes and it may look equitable to make the rich pay the rates of taxation than the men of small means, but it is not so equitable as it looks. It has not yet been proposed to apply the graduated system to real estate, but if it may be applied to incomes and bequests, why may it not be applied to houses and lands?

The graduated tax idea was developed in Europe, where finance ministers were obliged to tax everything they could see, and every time they saw it, and the necessities of raising a huge revenue led them to put on the rich burdens which the poor could not bear. In this country, where it is not necessary to raise so much revenue, it has been adopted as a benevolent scheme of distributing property.

In a speech 10 years ago Colonel Roosevelt advocated income taxes running up to 100 per cent, above some figure to be determined, as a means of preventing great fortunes, which he supposed to be injurious to the country.

In the new English budget the income tax runs up to a maximum of 12.5 per cent and the death duties to a maximum of 20 per cent. The chancellor says he needs the money and can secure it in that way easier than in some other, but what is to be the effect of the imposition of taxes by the people who do not pay them? So far taxes have been imposed by those who would pay them, not in the same amount, but in the same rate, as the richest. There were some interesting suggestions on this point in the valuable address on the income tax recently made by Professor Burgess. We now have a large class exempt from the income tax. This and the new English taxes are aimed at the rich, but that is a relative term. The people of the middle class seem rich to many, and they may finds themselves selected as targets for additional taxation, to be voted by a majority which exempts itself from liability for them.

The new theories of taxation in this country and in England introduce revolutionary ideas, and the result may be to give the rich new motives for seeking to control the state and national governments.

LITERATURE AS A CAREER.

If Ambassador Walter Hines Page is drawing $35,000 a year from his publishing business he demonstrates that there is wealth in the publication of things which people write. He told the Royal Literary Fund that there is no money in writing the things, and he has tried that, also. To attempt to make a living by writing he said is absurd, and as a trustworthy source of income literature is inferior to gambling.

This is not nearly so discouraging as it sounds. One can make literature without letting go of more reliable sources of revenue. Shakespeare was an actor and theatrical manager. Charles Lamb wrote his essays while a clerk in the India office. Samuel Rogers was a banker, as, very many years after, was Edmund C. Stedman. Many literary men are professors, because the qualities which make one a literary figure are often the very qualities that make him desirable in a college faculty, and also because a professorship leaves more time for literary work than many other occupations.

If a young man has an ambition for a literary career, let him seek it. There is no reason why he should not be doing something else meanwhile which will not only serve as a pot-boiler but may lead to a competence. How much time is involved in writing poetry enough to give one a considerable reputation? The pay for as much as one could turn out would not go far, except in a few cases, but the writing can be done in one's spare time. A hundred thousand words would make quite a novel. One must be terribly hard-worked if he cannot write 1,000 words a day in his spare time, assuming that he has any literary gifts and that would turn out a novel in three months, or four a year if he could keep the pace. Few men are prolific enough to do that, even if they do nothing else.

There is nothing inconsistent between a literary career and going almost any kind of work. Mr. Pagan has shown that it can be done in a railroad signal tower. Let the youngsters who wish to make literature go ahead and make it. If very successful they can live on the proceeds, but prior to success they can pursue some remunerative occupation.

There is a general feeling in Washington that the nation-wide prohibition resolution will be brought to a vote in the House of Representatives before Congress adjourns, although it is quite probable that the Democrats will not make it a caucus measure. Estimates vary as to the size of the vote the resolution will receive. As it proposes an amendment to the Constitution it must have two thirds, and its more enthusiastic supporters claim that it will secure the requisite number, while others think it will fall just short. It is conceded that there is every indication that it will receive a majority vote and the mere fact that the measure will have such general support in this Congress will give it a prestige at future sessions which will insure its ultimate success.

Nantucket is not satisfied with its ordinance prohibiting the use of its roads by automobiles. This does not exclude machines from the state highway which runs across the island, and the people have gone to the state legislature for a bill which will shut out motor vehicles from all roads, the state highway included, and its passage is assured. Nantucket will soon be an oasis among summer resorts. Bar Harbor has already let down the bars against automobiles.

The Twelfth New York Assembly District in which the grand jury has returned 25 indictments against election officials, is the one in which Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany leader, resides. The indictments charge fraud in the conduct of the election at which the question of calling a constitutional convention was voted upon, and in which 800 false votes were cast.

The situation in Mexico again looks more serious. It is growing more evident each day that careful preparation was being prosecuted during the watchful waiting, and it was well. We needed the time to make ready, and are not fully prepared yet, if worse comes to worst.

The second Sunday in May will hereafter be officially Mothers' day, Congress having adopted a resolution requesting the President to issue a proclamation designating it as such in the years to come.

FOR EFFICIENT SERVICE.

Officers and Men of Reserve Torpedo Fleet Commended by Secretary Daniels.

The Secretary of the Navy has sent the following commendatory letter to Lieutenant Commander Frank T. Evans, the flotilla commander, and the officers and men of the reserve torpedo flotilla of the Atlantic fleet:

"On withdrawing the reserve torpedo flotilla from service in the Gulf of Mexico for overhaul at Charleston, the department wishes to express to you, and through you to the officers and men under your command, its appreciation of the efficient service rendered by the reserve torpedo flotilla, Atlantic fleet.

"The records of the department show that the reserve torpedo flotilla has cruised since the fourteenth of January with reduced complements of officers and men, all vessels excepting flag boats having one offices. Despite the handicaps imposed by limited personnel, the reserve torpedo flotilla has made extensive cruises in Gulf waters, carrying on torpedo practice in the vicinity of Dry Tortugas and joining the destroyers in active service in the Atlantic torpedo flotilla at Pensacola where the reserve torpedo flotilla was reported as ready to accompany the active flotilla on active service.

"When the active flotilla was ordered to Tampico the reserve flotilla was held in reserve at Port Arthur and Galveston and rendered efficient service in conveying army transports to Vera Cruz.

"The department directs that this letter be published at general muster on board of each vessel under your command."

LOSS TO NEW BEDFORD.

Repairing of Vineyard Boats in Newport Seriously Affects City.

According to the New Bedford Standard New Bedford is losing $15,000 a year because the steamboat company is having the work of repairing the steamers of the Vineyard lines done in Newport instead of New Bedford. It has just been discovered that this serious loss has taken place and the Standard gives some space to showing that the change has already gone into effect.

It has gone into effect. The boats were overhauled in Newport last year—that is, the Gay Head and Sankaty were, this is the first year the Uncatena has been here for this purpose. The Vineyard boats have been owned by the steamboat company only about two years, so there has not been occasion before last year to bring them here. This is the natural place for overhauling the boats, as this is the repair plant of the company, where the work on all the steamers is done. It is fair to presume that the company can do it more economically here than it could have it done elsewhere. That is why the boats were overhauled here last year and this year. It seems a little late to discover what happened last year.

MIDDLETOWN.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

The Oliphant Club was entertained at its weekly meeting by Mrs. Gertrude Wilbor at Chasecrille. Current events and quotations from the poets were followed by selections from the Arbor Day books used in the public schools. Although several rosebushes were brought to be planted, the rain prevented this. The foul weather caused a somewhat small attendance. The matter of combining with the Newport clubs for the annual summer meeting of the State Federation was discussed and the sentiment was in favor of assisting in the entertainment. Mrs. Helen DeBlois will present at the next meeting the third topic in the Nature Study series, "Sea Life."

Mrs. Daniel A. Peckham, who has been spending the past two weeks as guest of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Robert Patterson, in Newport, has returned.

Arbor Day Observance at Newtown School—Entertainment for St. Paul's.

(Regular correspondence of the News.)

Arbor day was observed at the Newtown school, the three grades uniting in one program. One visitor, the superintendent, Mrs. J. M. Eldridge, was present. The exercises opened with the singing of "Welcome to Arbor Day" and the commissioner's Arbor Day message was read by Miss Mary Viera.

The intermediate grade began their exercises with a recitation, "Daffy Down Dilly," by Ella Shaw; "The Sand Piper" followed by [illegible] Wilkey; "The Daffodils," Frank [illegible]; "Wishing," Katherine [illegible]; songs by school, "Down in the Valley"; "Sunshine Set to Music"; "Come out, little leaves"; selections by Lloyd Wyatt and Anna Chase; song by school, "How Robins build nests" and "Forget-me-not." The grammar grade presented readings by a number of pupils and the following songs were sung by the three schools: "The Day of Planting," "Little Cherry Blossom," "Pussy Willow" and "Hymn for Tree Planting."

At the close of the exercises, adjournment was had to the school yard where a tree was planted and named "Mrs. Eldredge" in honor of the superintendent.

Arbor day exercises were observed at the Bristol Ferry school, Miss Mary Steere, teacher, as follows: Reading of commissioner's message; exercise, "Forget Me Not," by six girls; recitation, "Earth and Infinity"; song, "Hymn for Tree Planting"; repetition of a psalm by school; recitation by eight girls; song, "Welcome to Arbor Day"; a Maypole dance in which all joined and crowned Mary Vario as queen.

The entertainment given at St. Paul's parish house Friday evening by the three societies of the church—the Ladies' Aid, the Guild and the Junior Auxiliary—was well attended, although the receipts must have been much less on account of the weather. All the cream, cake and May baskets offered for sale at the close were disposed of and more could have been used. Rev. A. B. Howard announced that the object was to add to the endowment fund, which was begun seven or eight years ago.

The program began with a violin solo by Mr. Earl Bowen, leader of the Fall River High School orchestra, his mother, Mrs. Edward A. Bowen, accompanying on the piano. During the evening they gave "National Emblem," encore, popular number; "La Cinquantaini;" encore, "Slumber Song" (Miska Hauser), and the Uniformity March, composed by Mrs. Bowen.

A rose drill under the direction of Miss Edna M. Brophy was pretty and pleasing. A broad band of pink crepe paper held by five children—Russell Anthony, Hazel Wyatt, Berkeley Hall, Ruth Brinkman and Lloyd Anthony—marked off a large square in the centre of the hall, in which 12 girls went through many movements under the direction of Miss Brophy, and the way the children were dressed made it a very pretty spectacle. All were white from top to toe, with bright pink caps, collars and sashes, and each carried a bunch of pink roses with green leaves, which they used in the drill, which was admirably done.

A pantomime was the leading feature of the evening. Mr. Alfred C. Hall, an old bachelor, put up a sign "Wanted—A Wife," after having failed in attempts to darn his stockings, wash his shirt, sweep the floor and wash the dishes. In answer Mrs. Alice Webb appeared, but regarded with disdain such work; Miss Lillian Wheeler was also not favorable, Miss Louise Chase brought her banjo, Mrs. Clara Rose was a suffragist, Mrs. Arthur Sherman was anxious to play tennis, Mrs. Annie Mott was a widow with six children; Mrs. B. W. Storrs was too loud and careless, Mrs. Herbert B. Ashley did everything beautifully but Mr. Hall found when he lifted her veil that she was a black woman.

Mrs. Gould Anthony and Miss M. Louise Chase had charge of the May basket table, Mrs. Benjamin S. Anthony and Mrs. Elwyn B. Anthony served at the cake table, and Mrs. Chase and Mrs. David B. Anthony served ice cream.

AT 10 O'CLOCK IN THE FORENOON They will assess the Town Tax ordered to be levied and assessed on the ratable property of said Town, at the annual Financial Town Meeting of the qualified electors thereof, duly notified and legally held therein, on the 4th day of April, A. D. 1914, on the persons, corporations, estates and property liable therefor, and taxable under the laws of said State, and at the same time will assess the Poll Tax for the current year, A. D. 1914, as provided in Chapter 59, of the General Laws of said State.

The undersigned further hereby give notice that they will meet and be in session at the Town Clerk's Office, in said Jamestown, on

MONDAY, MAY 11th, 1914,
On TUESDAY, MAY 12, 1914, and on WEDNESDAY, May 13th, 1914,

From 9 to 12 and 1 to 5 P. M. for the purpose of receiving a true and exact account of all the ratable property of every person, corporation and estate liable to taxation in said town under the laws of said State and every such person, corporation and estate liable to taxation in said Jamestown aforesaid, is hereby notified and required to bring in to said Assessors, within the time or times, and at the place of meeting and session of said Assessors, as hereinbefore mentioned and designated, a true and exact account of all his or its ratable estate, describing and specifying the value of every parcel of his or its real and personal estate, and make oath to the truth of said account before some one of the undersigned Assessors as aforesaid.

Whoever neglects or refuses to bring in such account, if overtaxed, shall have no remedy therefore, as provided by law. Every male person above the age of twenty years, who pays no property tax, or property tax less than one dollar, and who, if registered, would be qualified to vote, is liable to the assessment of a poll tax of one dollar, or so much thereof as with the other taxes assessed against said person shall amount to one dollar.

THE WEATHER.

BOSTON, May 9.—Forecast for Boston and vicinity—Fair tonight and Sunday; moderate variable winds.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Forecast for southern New England—Fair tonight and Sunday; moderate variable winds, mostly west.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Forecast for northern New England—Partly cloudy tonight and Sunday; warmer in Maine Sunday; moderate to fresh variable winds.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The storm area that covered the Middle Atlantic states and Ohio valley Friday morning moved eastward and caused general showers in eastern districts during yesterday and last night. It was still raining at observation time this morning in Maine, with the centre of lowest pressure in the vicinity of Portland. Fair weather prevails in other portions of the country, with much clear sky and sunshine and temperatures near the seasonal average, though it is moderately cool in south central districts. The weather is clear on the western Gulf coast and along the Mexican border. The pressure distribution this morning is favorable for fair weather during the next 36 hours, with little change in temperature and moderate variable winds. The temperature at 8 a. m. in New York was 58, Boston 60, Washington 54, Jacksonville 80, St. Louis 74, Chicago 52, Des Moines 48, Detroit 54, San Francisco 56 and [illegible].

CONSOLIDATING COMMISSIONS.

Rhode Island needs something of the kind which has been established in Ohio. Here the legislature for several years has been increasing the number of state commissions, with not much apparent benefit in either economy or efficiency. Out in Ohio the opposite course is taken, a process of consolidation of commissions being in operation. It is believed that the result will be a large increase in the efficiency of administration and at the same time a decrease in the expense of the operation of those departments of the government affected. Last autumn six departments were absorbed by a commission of three persons, which was invested with all their powers. It is too soon yet to speak authoritatively concerning the results, but there is no serious complaint of lack of benefit by the consolidation, while there are many words of praise of the new body and the work it is doing.

Under this new arrangement the commission has supervision of mills, shops, stores, telephone and telegraph companies, laundries, bakeries, hotels, railway stations, apartment houses, theatres, churches, hospitals and schools; in fact, private dwellings alone are exempt from its jurisdiction. It has power to enforce and administer all laws requiring buildings and places of employment to be safe and providing for the protection of the life, health and welfare of all employes, and to regulate hours of labor. These are wide powers to be exercised by three persons, but they concentrate responsibility and that is the object of this radical change. The country is watching this Ohio experiment, and it may have widespread results if it succeeds as well as is expected.

It must not be forgotten, however, that the success or failure of such a movement is dependent in the largest degree upon the personnel of the commission appointed to perform such important and exhaustive duties. In the Ohio case the men who constitute this board are of high standing in the state. All have been close students of labor conditions and are conversant with the issues which it is their business in their new capacity to meet. With such men powers as large as these may be considered safe, while with those of less ability and experience the bestowal of so much authority would be decidedly injurious to the state and the welfare of the people. That is the crucial point, that the men appointed to commissions must be efficient and upright, or the last condition will be worse than the first, while with such men the improvement in administration may be almost limitless.

Small commissions and fewer of them are needed in Rhode Island, where they are so numerous that their duties overlap and result in confusion and conflict of authority, such as have just now put the state in an unenviable light through the fight in the legislature over the Board of Control and Supply and the Board of State Institutions. There can be little or no question that if the members of these commissions had been of higher calibre and more familiar with the duties which they were called upon to perform there would have been no such trouble as that which has recently As costly in these last few weeks. It is undoubtedly true, too, that with a commission of the proper kind and smaller than either of these present boards the affairs of both could be better administered than they have been of late.

GRADUATED TAXES.

It is of course equitable to take the man who have the most property and pay the most taxes, and it may also be equitable to assess the rich pay higher rates of taxation than the men of small means, but it is not so equitable as it looks. It has not yet been proposed to apply the graduated system to real estate, but if it may be applied to incomes and bequests, why may it not be applied to houses and lands?

The graduated tax idea was developed in Europe, where finance ministers were obliged to tax everything they could see, and every time they saw it, and the necessities of raising a huge revenue led them to put on the rich burdens which the poor could not bear. In this country, where it is not necessary to raise so much revenue, it has been adopted as a benevolent scheme of distributing property.

In a speech 16 years ago Colonel Roosevelt advocated income taxes running up to 100 per cent. above some figure to be determined, as a means of preventing great fortunes, which he supposed to be injurious to the country.

In the new English budget the income tax runs up to a maximum of 12.5 per cent and the death duties to a maximum of 20 per cent. The chancellor says he needs the money and can secure it in that way easier than in some other, but what is to be the effect of the imposition of taxes by the people who do not pay them? So far taxes have been imposed by those who would pay them, not in the same amount, but in the same rate, as the richest. There were some interesting suggestions on this point in the valuable address on the income tax recently made by Professor Hurgess. We now have a large class exempt from the income tax. This and the new English taxes are aimed at the rich, but that is a relative term. The people of the middle class seem rich to many, and they may finds themselves selected as targets for additional taxation, to be voted by a majority which exempts itself from liability for them.

The new theories of taxation in this country and in England introduce revolutionary ideas, and the result may be to give the rich new motives for seeking to control the state and national governments.

LITERATURE AS A CAREER.

If Ambassador Walter Hines Page is drawing $35,000 a year from his publishing business he demonstrates that there is wealth in the publication of things which people write. He told the Royal Literary Fund that there is no money in writing the things, and he has tried that, also. To attempt to make a living by writing he said is absurd, and as a trustworthy source of income literature is inferior to gambling.

This is not nearly so discouraging as it sounds. One can make literature without letting go of more reliable sources of revenue. Shakespeare was an actor and theatrical manager. Charles Lamb wrote his essays while a clerk in the India office. Samuel Rogers was a banker, as very many years after, was Edmund C. Stedman. Many literary men are professors, because the qualities which make one a literary figure are often the very qualities that make him desirable in a college faculty, and also because a professorship leaves more time for literary work than many other occupations.

If a young man has an ambition for a literary career, let him seek it. There is no reason why he should not be doing something else meanwhile which will not only serve as a pot-boiler but may lead to a competence. How much time is involved in writing poetry enough to give one a considerable reputation? The pay for as much as one could turn out would not go far, except in a few cases, but the writing can be done in one's spare time. A hundred thousand words would make quite a novel. One must be terribly hard-worked if he cannot write 1,000 words a day in his spare time, assuming that he has any literary gifts and that would turn out a novel in three months, or four a year if he could keep the pace. Few men are prolific enough to do that, even if they do nothing else.

There is nothing inconsistent between a literary career and doing almost any kind of work. Mr. Pagan has shown that it can be done in a railroad signal tower. Let the youngsters who wish to make literature go ahead and make it. If very successful they can live on the proceeds, but prior to success they can pursue some remunerative occupation.

There is a general feeling in Washington that the nation-wide prohibition resolution will be brought to a vote in the House of Representatives before Congress adjourns, although it is quite probable that the Democrats will not make it a caucus measure. Estimates vary as to the size of the vote the resolution will receive. As it proposes an amendment to the Constitution it must have two thirds, and its more enthusiastic supporters claim that it will secure the requisite number, while others think it will fall just short. It is conceded that there is every indication that it will receive a majority vote, and the mere fact that the measure will have such general support in this Congress will give it a prestige at future sessions which will insure its ultimate success.

Nantucket is not satisfied with its ordinance prohibiting the use of its roads by automobiles. This does not exclude machines from the state highway which runs across the island, and the people have gone to the state legislature for a bill which will shut out motor vehicles from all roads. The state highway included, and its passage is assured Nantucket will soon be unique among summer resorts. Bar Harbor has already let down the bars against automobiles.

The Twelfth New York Assembly district, in which the annual fury has returned 25 indictments against election officials, is the one in which City Tax P. Morgan, the Tammany leader, resides. The indictments charge fraud in the conduct of the election at which the question of calling a constitutional convention was voted upon, and in which 800 false votes were cast.

The situation in Mexico again looks more serious. It is growing more evident each day that careful preparation was being prosecuted during the watchful waiting, and it was well. We needed the time to make ready, and are not fully prepared yet, if worse comes to worst.

The second Sunday in May will hereafter be officially Mothers' day, Congress having adopted a resolution requesting the President to issue a proclamation designating it as such in the years to come.

FOR EFFICIENT SERVICE.

The Secretary of the Navy has sent the following commendatory letter to Lieutenant Commander Frank T. Evans, the flotilla commander, and the officers and men of the reserve torpedo flotilla of the Atlantic fleet:

"On withdrawing the reserve torpedo flotilla from service in the Gulf of Mexico for overhaul at Charleston, the department wishes to express to you, and through you to the officers and men under your command, its appreciation of the efficient service rendered by the reserve torpedo flotilla, Atlantic fleet.

"The records of the department show that the reserve torpedo flotilla has cruised since the fourteenth of January with reduced complements of officers and men, all vessels excepting flag boats having one officer. Despite the handicaps imposed by limited personnel, the reserve torpedo flotilla has made extensive cruises in Gulf waters, carrying on torpedo practice in the vicinity of Dry Tortugas and joining the destroyers in active service in the Atlantic torpedo flotilla at Pensacola, where the reserve torpedo flotilla was reported as ready to accompany the active flotilla on active service.

"When the active flotilla was ordered to Tampico the reserve flotilla was held in reserve at Port Arthur and Galveston and rendered efficient service in conveying army transports to Vera Cruz.

"The department directs that this letter be published at general muster on board of each vessel under your command."

LOSS TO NEW BEDFORD.

Repairing of Vineyard Boats in Newport Seriously Affects City.

According to the New Bedford Standard New Bedford is losing $15,000 a year because the steamboat company is having the work of repairing the steamers of the Vineyard lines done in Newport instead of New Bedford. It has just been discovered that this serious loss has taken place and the Standard gives some space to showing that the change has already gone into effect.

It has gone into effect. The boats were overhauled in Newport last year—that is, the Gay Head and Sankaty were; this is the first year the Uncatena has been here for this purpose. The Vineyard boats have been owned by the steamboat company only about two years, so there has not been occasion before last year to bring them here. This is the natural place for overhauling the boats, as this is the repair plant of the company, where the work on all the steamers is done. It is fair to presume that the company can do it more economically here than it could have it done elsewhere. That is why the boats were overhauled here last year and this year. It seems a little late to discover what happened last year.

MIDDLETOWN.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

The Oliphant Club was entertained at its weekly meeting by Mrs. Gertrude Wilbor at Chaseville. Current events and quotations from the poets were followed by selections from the Arbor Day books used in the public schools. Although several rosebushes were brought to be planted, the rain prevented this. The bad weather caused a somewhat small attendance. The matter of combining with the Newport clubs for the annual summer meeting of the State Federation was discussed and the sentiment was in favor of assisting in the entertainment. Mrs. Helen DeBlois will present at the next meeting the third topic in the Nature Study series, "Sea Life."

Mrs. Daniel A. Peckham, who has been spending the past two weeks as guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Patterson, in Newport, has returned.

Arbor Day Observance at Newtown School—Entertainment for St. Paul's.

(Regular correspondence of the News.)

Arbor day was observed at the Newtown school, the three grades uniting in one program. One visitor, the superintendent, Mrs. J. M. Eldridge, was present. The exercises opened with the singing of "Welcome to Arbor Day" and the commissioner's Arbor Day message was read by Miss Mary Viera.

The intermediate grade began their exercises with a recitation, "Daffy Down Dilly," by Elly Shaw; "The Sand Piper" followed by [illegible] Wilkey; "The Daffodils," Fran[illegible]; "Wishing," Katherine [illegible] by school, "Down in [illegible]," "Sunshine Set to Music", [illegible], "Little leaves"; selections by Lloyd Wyatt and Alma Chase; song by school, "How Robins build nests" and "Forget-me-not." The grammar grade presented readings by a number of pupils and the following songs were sung by the three schools: "The Day of Planting," "Little Cherry Blossom," "Pussy Willow" and "Hymn for Tree Planting."

At the close of the exercises, adjournment was had to the school yard where a tree was planted and named "Mrs. Eldredge" in honor of the superintendent.

Arbor day exercises were observed at the Bristol Ferry school, Miss Mary Steere, teacher, as follows: Reading of commissioner's message; exercise, "Forget Me Not," by six girls; recitation, "Earth and Infinity"; song, "Hymn for Tree Planting"; repetition of a psalm by school; recitation by eight girls; song, "Welcome to Arbor Day"; a Maypole dance in which all joined and crowned Mary Varlo as queen.

The entertainment given at St. Paul's parish house Friday evening by the three societies of the church—the Ladies' Aid, the Guild and the Junior Auxiliary—was well attended, although the receipts must have been much less on account of the weather. All the cream, cake and May baskets offered for sale at the close were disposed of and more could have been used. Rev. A. B. Howard announced that the object was to add to the endowment fund, which was begun seven or eight years ago.

The program began with a violin solo by Mr. Earl Bowen, leader of the Fall River High School orchestra, his mother, Mrs. Edward A. Bowen, accompanying on the piano. During the evening they gave "National Emblem," encore, popular number; "La Cinquantaine;" encore, "Slumber Song" (Miska Hauser), and the Uniformity March, composed by Mrs. Bowen.

A rose drill under the direction of Miss Edna M. Brophy was pretty and pleasing. A broad band of pink crepe paper held by five children—Russell Anthony, Hazel Wyatt, Berkeley Hall, Ruth Brinkman and Lloyd Anthony—marked off a large square in the centre of the hall, in which 12 girls went through many movements under the direction of Miss Brophy, and the way the children were dressed made it a very pretty spectacle. All were white from top to toe, with bright pink caps, collars and sashes, and each carried a bunch of pink roses with green leaves, which they used in the drill, which was admirably done.

A pantomime was the leading feature of the evening. Mr. Alfred C. Hall, an old bachelor, put up a sign "Wanted—A Wife," after having failed in attempts to darn his stockings, wash his shirt, sweep the floor and wash the dishes. In answer Mrs. Alice Webb appeared, but regarded with disdain such work; Miss Lillian Wheeler was also not favorable, Miss Louise Chase brought her banjo, Mrs. Clara Rose was a suffragist, Mrs. Arthur Sherman was anxious to play tennis, Mrs. Annie Mott was a widow with six children; Mrs. B. W. Storrs was too loud and careless, Mrs. Herbert B. Ashley did everything beautifully but Mr. Hall found when he lifted her veil that she was a black woman.

Mrs. Gould Anthony and Miss M. Louise Chase had charge of the May basket table, Mrs. Benjamin S. Anthony and Mrs. Elwyn B. Anthony served at the cake table, and Mrs. Chase and Mrs. David B. Anthony served ice cream.

TOWN OF JAMESTOWN, R. I.
Town Tax and Poll Tax for 1914.
Assessors' Notice.
JAMESTOWN, R. I.,
April 18th, A. D. 1914.
The undersigned, Assessors of Taxes, in and for the town of Jamestown, in the State of Rhode Island, etc., duly elected thereto and sworn, hereby give notice that on Monday, May 11, 1914,
AT 10 O'CLOCK IN THE FORENOON They will assess the Town Tax ordered to be levied and assessed on the ratable property of said Town, at the annual Financial Town Meeting of the qualified electors thereof, duly notified and legally held therein, on the 4th day of April, A. D. 1914, on the persons, corporations, estates and property liable therefor, and taxable under the laws of said State, and at the same time will assess the Poll Tax for the current year, A. D. 1914, as provided in Chapter 53, of the General Laws of said State.
The undersigned further hereby give notice that they will meet and be in session at the Town Clerk's Office, in said Jamestown, on
MONDAY, MAY 11th, 1914,
On TUESDAY, MAY 12, 1914, and on WEDNESDAY, May 13th, 1914,
From 9 to 12 and 1 to 5 P. M., for the purpose of receiving a true and exact account of all the ratable property of every person, corporation and estate liable to taxation in said town under the laws of said State and every such person, corporation and estate liable to taxation in said Jamestown, aforesaid, is hereby notified and required to bring in to said Assessors, within the time or times, and at the place of meeting and session of said Assessors, as hereinbefore mentioned and designated, a true and exact account of all his or its ratable estate, describing and specifying the value of every parcel of his or its real and personal estate, and make oath to the truth of said account before some one of the undersigned Assessors as aforesaid.
Whoever neglects or refuses to bring in such account, if overtaxed, shall have no remedy therefore, as provided by law. Every male person above the age of twenty years, who pays no property tax, or property tax less than one dollar, and who, if registered, would be qualified to vote, is liable to the assessment of a poll tax of one dollar, or so much thereof as with the other taxes assessed against said person shall amount to one dollar.

THE WEATHER.

BOSTON, May 9.—Forecast for Boston and vicinity—Fair tonight and Sunday; moderate variable winds.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Forecast for southern New England—Fair tonight and Sunday; moderate variable winds, mostly west.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—Forecast for northern New England—Partly cloudy tonight and Sunday; warmer in Maine Sunday; moderate to fresh variable winds.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

The storm area that covered the Middle Atlantic states and Ohio valley Friday morning moved eastward and caused general showers in eastern districts during yesterday and last night. It was still raining at observation time this morning in Maine, with the centre of lowest pressure in the vicinity of Portland. Fair weather prevails in other portions of the country, with much clear sky and sunshine and temperatures near the seasonal average, though it is moderately cool in south central districts. The weather is clear on the western Gulf coast and along the Mexican border. The pressure distribution this morning is favorable for fair weather during the next 36 hours, with little change in temperature and moderate variable winds. The temperature at 8 a. m. in New York was 58, Boston 60, Washington 54, Jacksonville 69, St. Louis 74, Chicago 52, Des Moines 48, [illegible] 54, San Francisco 56 and [illegible].

WANDERED A LONG WAY.

Two Children Belonging on Halsey Street Found at Narragansett Aveune.

Friday being Arbor day, two little girls living on Halsey street, out in the "swamp" district, felt the wander spell of spring, and despite the fact that it was raining started out to see things growing. They were missed, and in addition to their own relatives the police were looking for them, the patrol going out in that district, but still they were missing.

About 4 o'clock Officer Ring heard that two little girls were seen out by the Two Mile Corner, so he caught a Fall River car and went out. He saw a number of children, but not the two for whom he was in search.

While Officer Ring was looking for the lost ones out in Middletown John Rose, driver for Harry Rooney, picked them up at Bellevue and Narragansett avenues. They were well soaked with the rain and one was about exhausted from fatigue. He took them into "Clover Patch," where Mrs. Harriman saw that the two wanderers received nourishment and were made fit for taking home. It was a long trip, and some time was spent in chasing the little ones

WINTERED AT SHIPYARD.

The Cassandra Cleans for Glen Cove and the Arrow Goes Overboard.

The fast power boat Cassandra cleared at 10:30 this morning for Glen Cove N. Y., and with good going should be there in about five and a half hours. The Cassandra, built for Mr. Hermann Oelrichs, is now owned by Mr. Harry Payne Whitney.

Another boat which wintured at Williams & Manchester's yard went overboard this morning and is to be rigged to leave Tuesday for her new home at Gloucester. She is the 18-foot sloop Arrow II, owned and sailed by Mr. B. C. Hirst, Jr., for several years and by him sold this spring to Mr. W. Scott Parker of Gloucester. The Arrow was considered the best all-round boat of the Narragansett Bay 18-footers and made the best showing in the inter-bay racing at Marblehead. Mr. Hirst however, has so little time now in summer that he is unable to give attention to the racing game and has been compelled to part with her.

"IN THE BISHOP'S CARRIAGE."

"In the Bishop's Carriage," to be seen at the Opera House next week, is a play of many exciting scenes. The production serves adequately the purpose of providing entertainment for those who like strong, rational plays. It is a variant of the "Raffles" themes, with much virtue in construction, brightness of dialogue and tenseness of situation. The plot, which has to do with the life achievements of a famous female crook, "Nance Olden," shows her gradual reclamation from the paths of wrong-doing. The struggle waged by "Nance" to free herself from the influence of her youth and assert herself promises to reveal some fine work by Miss Shirley. The piece is in four acts and a complete scenic production has been built for it.

SQUID AND OTHER FISH.

The fishermen seem to be squidding other than scupping, judging by reports all around. Today the Seaconnet River Oyster Company had five barrels of scup, some mackerel and one salmon. C. B. Anderson had 12 squid, four scup, some mackerel, some sea bass and some striped bass, the latter caught off here. C. A. Easterbrooks had four barrels of squid and some handsome roe shad. It seems needless to say that all had robins. Point Judith sent over 12 barrels of which one half-barrel was scup.

WIRELESS WORK ON VINEYARD SOUND LIGHTSHIP.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Miss Dorothy Lyons will leave tonight for a short visit to New York

—Mr. Jasper Lynch is here today, looking after his property near the beach

—Barge Mamie Frank is in, with a cargo of coal for Pinniger & Manchester Company.

—The Artillery flag seems to have the stay-up-all-the-time fever. It was up again today.

—Miss Josephine Delaney has returned to "Eagle Crest" after an extended visit to New York.

—Mr. Norman's relief map of the Panama canal now adorns the wall of the Aquidneck National Bank.

—Mrs. Peter G. Campbell entertained a number of friends at her home on Warner street, Friday evening.

—Lieutenant Frank R. McCrary, U. S. N., formerly at the Torpedo Station and now on special duty at Grayford, England, has been nominated for promotion to lieutenant commander.

—Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Mason arrived Friday night for the season and are at the Muenchinger-King. Their servants arrived this morning. Mr. Bertram Winthrop is also at the Muenchinger-King

—The deed from Oliver W. Huntington to the city of Newport, for the strip of land on Third street, has been filed for record. This means that the city treasurer had paid the $5,000 agreed on and the first part of the widening has been done

—April 30 the passenger train service of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railway Company made a new low record in trains late. Out of 1021 trains, only 37, or 4.8 per cent, were late. This is the lowest percentage since November 1, 1913. Out of the 37 trains late, four were through trains.

—Friday Deputy Chief Grinnell of Tiverton brought in two boys and two girls charged with a statutory offence, to which they all pleaded guilty and the judge imposed the usual fine, $10, with the usual Tiverton cost. This meant $16.20 each, but the total cash available was only $6.25, which could not free one of them, and so the whole party went to the workhouse. This trip will cost them $8.10 each, so that they reach the workhouse $24.30 in debt. This means a great many days of work at the rate allowed.

COMES ABOUT IN TEN SECONDS.

New Yacht Runs Out by Castle Hill and Returns With all Racing Sails Set.

The Resolute, the latest Herreshoff cup defender, made her first visit to the ocean this noon. She came down from Bristol with her clubtopsail set and with the three lower sails in which she made her first trial last Saturday. Off Prudence a baby jibtopsail was sent up and there was some manoeuvring of the boat to observe her action when underway. It is reported from Bristol that she came about in 10 seconds several times.

The wind was a fair breeze, which heeled the boat over slightly on the beat down. Captain Brad Ricketson said the Resolute could go as fast as the Squantum, which was under way to New port about the same time. Resolute passed here, and the Resolute was beating down. To those on shore it seemed that the wind was a trifle light.

Passing out past Fort Adams about 11:50, the Resolute came about when just below Castle Hill, where she made her first bow to old Atlantic. It was a bow, for the swell is still on outside, and every one knows it can be felt once a boat pokes her nose past the bell buoy. The boom was put to port and the spinnaker set to starboard and for the first time the yacht was running before the wind under full racing conditions—mainsail, clubtopsail, spinnaker, staysail, jib and baby jibtopsail.

Going up between the Torpedo Station and Jamestown the spinnaker and mainsail seemed to be drawing perfectly; not a wrinkle could be seen in the big belly of the spinnaker. The boom seemed almost at right angles to the centre of the yacht and the mainsail was drawing finely, and though there did not seem to be much wind the yacht just "ghosted" along about 12.30 the wind began to pick up a little, but by this time the Resolute was well above Rose Island on her way back to Bristol.

With everything drawing she makes a much prettier picture than she did last Saturday with only lower sails set. The clubtopsail, while not extending far above the topmast head or the end of the gaff, is still a big sail and adds greatly to the appearance of the yacht. The spinnaker certainly drew well, and a spinnaker drawing well is always a pretty sight. N. G. Herreshoff and C. F. Adams, 2d., were alternately at the wheel of the new yacht.

BASE BALL NOTES.

Rogers Game Postponed—Trojans and Newports Both to Play Sunday.

Rogers and St. George's had their second games of the week postponed Friday afternoon on account of the rain. For a while it was thought the play could be staged, at the latter's field, and Manager Lawton of Rogers even went so far as to take over a taxicab full of players. Just after they had departed for Middletown a telephone call from Manager Norman of St. George's called off the game, and prevented the other players from making the journey. The postponed game will be played Monday afternoon at St. George's.

The Field Club was defeated by the Peerless Athletic Club, the score being 4-3, and the game being called on account of rain. Briggs was the main support of the Peerless. Batteries for the Field Club were Libby, MacDonald and Newman; for the Peerless Burns, Gallagher and Andriesse.

The Trojans will put a strong team in the field against Fall River Sunday, although it has been necessary to make two changes. Ormsby, the centre fielder, has been declared eligible at Brown and taken on the 'Varsity squad, which means that he can play only on that team. For his position an acceptable player has been secured, Jack Gilmore, who was at Seton Hall with Ralph O'Connell last spring and with the New Bedford team of the New England League during the latter part of the season. He is a hard hitter, fast on the bases and can be depended upon to look well after centre field.

Owing to rheumatism the attending physician has advised "Mike" Regan to give up base ball. He was to have pitched for the Trojans and his loss will be keenly felt. Regan had trouble with his heart three years ago and this fact probably had something to do with the doctor's decision. To take his place a clever workman has been secured in Sullivan, the left-hander who beat the Trojans twice last season by scores of 2-1 and 2-0 in 12 innings. He is in great form, as he has been working on the Brown squad all the season but cannot play on the team owing to the fact that Brown has four pitchers this season who are exceptionally strong.

The remainder of the Trojan team will be the same as last week, and the All-Fall Rivers will present a strong line-up.

Pitted against the newly organized Newport team which will take the field in its first regular game of the season Sunday, will be the strong Training Station nine, which has been practicing steadily for the past few weeks. Several base ball stars who were at the Station when the sailors had one of the best teams in these parts are back again, and promise to give the Newports a surprise.

The Newport line-up has been already announced. The sailors will have Kenard, a man who has developed fast at the Station, on the mound, and Ramsay will do the receiving. Moore, Walk, Kenney and Alston will hold up the infield, while Riley, Slade, and Wilde will occupy the garden positions, with Burns and Brill as spare men.

COUNTY CAT CLUB BUSINESS.

The Newport County Cat Club met Friday afternoon with Mr. William Maher, with the president, Mrs William M. Hughes, in the chair. One new member was admitted and there was a discussion of the proposed Massachusetts law taxing cats, the sentiment of the members being generally against such a measure. Miss Gertrude Ehrhardt read a paper by Miss Dorothy Champion, Author of "Everybody's Cat Book," on "Colors that should not be crossed." Purple and white were adopted as the club colors. After the business meeting refreshments were served

TEN JURORS IN THE BOX.

The Second Trial of Becker Halted Until Monday Morning.

NEW York, May 9.—With 10 jurors in the box, the trial of Charles Becker for the murder of Herman Rosenthal was halted today until Monday morning. Two jurors were in the box last evening, but two were excused today and work was begun to select talesmen to fill their places. One man, Jesse G. Vose, was chosen, but the panel was exhausted before the twelfth man could be agreed upon. A new panel will be on hand Monday morning.

Paul D. Cravens, who was chosen juror No. 5, was excused from duty after an interview with Justice Seabury at noon today. This again reduced the number of jurors to 10.

When court convened Justice Seabury announced that Messrs Edward E. Van Eman and Robert Baxter had made special requests to be excused. They were accordingly excused. The court added that their dismissal in no way reflected on their integrity. They were excused for personal reasons, as has been done in several other instances since the trial started.

As court opened today with the approval of Becker and counsel, both of whom appeared much as he was before the first trial Becker prefers men with families as jurors, but of the 12 men in the box today six are unmarried. The average age of the present jury is under 45 years, which is younger than the previous jury.

SHIP CAPTAIN'S STORY.

Massacre of 45 Peruvian Soldiers Reported from Iquitos.

NEW YORK, May 9.—Captain W. P. Aspinwall of steamer Gregory, which arrived yesterday from Iquitos, 2,500 miles up the Amazon, brought a story of a massacre of 45 Peruvian soldiers, all Indians, who had mutinied and killed their officers.

Captain Aspinwall gives the narrative on the authority of the man who carried out the executions, Captain Fernando Casabal, who was a passenger on his ship as far as Barbadoes. The 45 mutineers, when captured, were shackled together and taken out on the Napo river on a lighter in tow of a gunboat. Then, the story goes, a machine gun on the gunboat was turned on the prisoners and all were killed. Their bodies were thrown into the river.

LAUNCHING MONDAY AFTERNOON

Plans Completed for Releasing Cup Defender Down to Water's Edge.

BATH, Maine, May 9.—Preparations were completed today for releasing cup defense candidate Defiance down the ways to the water's edge, where she will remain until the hour of launching Monday afternoon. The cradle on which the sloop now rests was moved cautiously and was prevented from gaining momentum on the greased ways by a gigantic block and fall arrangement. The removal was expected to take about two hours.

The wire rigging for the mast was assembled this morning and it was planned to step the wooden topmast at once, so that this, with the mainmast, will be slung simultaneously. The big spreader was located on the mainmast but will not be attached until after the big spar has been stepped. This is a composite affair, having a steel truss with yellow pine tips, the length from end to end measuring 34 feet.

COAST BLOCKADED BY ICE.

Shipping Movements Around Newfoundland Demoralized.

ST. JOHNS, Newfoundland, May 9.—An ice embargo has demoralized shipping movements along the Newfoundland coast for a fortnight. Steamer Sardinian, from Philadelphia for Glasgow, by way of this port, has been for two days in the ice off Cape Race waiting for a change of wind to open a passage through the floes. Steamer Pomeranian, laden for Liverpool, is held in the harbor. Steamer Digby, from Liverpool, managed to work her way into St. John's yesterday.

The entire coast north of here is blockaded by ice, which for 10 or 12 days has prevented steamer Tritonia reaching Botwood, a port on North Bay. The Tritonia's agents, commenting today on a report from the United States, that the steamer was in a dangerous position, said that no uneasiness was felt.

BISHOP PERRY SPEAKS.

New England Assembly, Brotherhood of St. Andrew in Providence.

PROVIDENCE, May 9.—Holy Communion, a prayer service, a business meeting and several conferences formed the program today of the twenty-sixth annual convention of the New England Assembly, Brotherhood of St. Andrew. One of the principal speakers was Bishop James DeWolf Perry, Jr., of this city. The election of officers was set for late in the day.

TURNED TOO ABRUPTLY.

Two German Army Lieutenants Killed While Landing Aeroplane.

ISTETTIN, Germany, May 9.—Lieutenants Faber and Kurtz, of the German army were killed today while attempting to make a landing here with their aeroplane, while on a flight from Solwerin to Rosen. The accident, apparently, was brought about by the pilot turning the machine too abruptly.

MAGNOLIA TREES IN BLOOM.

Tulips Looking Well, the Grass Green and Thermometer Well Up.

It rained a little more Friday; .58 of an inch according to the rain gauge. Though it was not really needed it brought the total for May up to 2.44 inches. To tell the truth, the farmers, the Water Works, the carpenters and gardeners, and every one but the umbrella and rubber men, could have dispensed with all that 2.44 inches and have felt better.

A year ago today, May 9, 1913, was Arbor day. Eight battleships, some submarines and tenders were in port; it seemed that the season had opened. Lilacs and horsechestnuts promised to be all gone by Decoration day, the tulips were in full bloom, the fishermen were pounding scup, and flies were being slaughtered in the spring clean-up campaign. But ice was higher.

The magnolia trees are in bloom. The one at the corner of Bellevue avenue and Old Beach road, on the Griswold place, that on Kay street, at the old Marin place, and the pink one in Dr. Robinson's yard on High street, are well blossomed out and in all their glory. Those at Mrs. Brown's on Coggeshall avenue are not yet fully opened, and the same applies to the little ones on the Keteltas estate on Spring street. The tulip tree on the Lawton property on Broadway is also well bloomed out.

The tulips look well, the trees are budding finely, and it will well repay one to take a walk Sunday and see how nature is trying to shake off the mantle of winter and take on the verdure of spring. The grass could not be greener or more abundant, and lawn mowers are at work all along the line.

This was the first day when the southwest wind seemed endurable, and even then the sun went into retirement in the afternoon, after it had caused the thermometer up to 68 shortly after 1 o'clock.

WANDERED A LONG WAY.

Two Children Belonging on Halsey Street Found at Narragansett Aveune.

Friday being Arbor day, two little girls living on Halsey street, out in the "swamp" district, felt the wander spell of spring, and despite the fact that it was raining started out to see things growing. They were missed, and in addition to their own relatives the police were looking for them, the patrol going out in that district, but still they were missing.

About 4 o'clock Officer Ring heard that two little girls were seen out by the Two Mile Corner, so he caught a Fall River car and went out. He saw a number of children, but not the two for whom he was in search.

While Officer Ring was looking for the lost ones out in Middletown John Rose, driver for Harry Rooney, picked them up at Bellevue and Narragansett avenues. They were well soaked with the rain and one was about exhausted from fatigue. He took them into "Clover Patch," where Mrs. Harriman saw that the two wanderers received nourishment and were made fit for taking home. It was a long trip, and some time was spent in chasing the little ones

WINTERED AT SHIPYARD.

The Cassandra Clears for Glen Cove and the Arrow Goes Overboard.

The fast power boat Cassandra cleared at 10:30 this morning for Glen Cove N. Y., and with good going should be there in about five and a half hours. The Cassandra, built for Mr. Hermann Oelrichs, is now owned by Mr. Harry Payne Whitney.

Another boat which wintered at Williams & Manchester's yard went overboard this morning and is to be rigged to leave Tuesday for her new home at Gloucester. She is the 18-foot sloop Arrow II, owned and sailed by Mr. B. C. Hirst, Jr., for several years and by him sold this spring to Mr. W. Scott Parker of Gloucester. The Arrow was considered the best all-round boat of the Narragansett Bay 18-footers and made the best showing in the inter-bay racing at Marblehead. Mr. Hirst however, has so little time now in summer that he is unable to give attention to the racing game and has been compelled to part with her.

"IN THE BISHOP'S CARRIAGE."

"In the Bishop's Carriage," to be seen at the Opera House next week, is a play of many exciting scenes. The production serves adequately the purpose of providing entertainment for those who like strong, rational plays. It is a variant of the "Raffles" themes, with much virtue in construction, brightness of dialogue and tenseness of situation. The plot, which has to do with the life achievements of a famous female crook, "Nance Olden," shows her gradual reclamation from the paths of wrong-doing. The struggle waged by "Nance" to free herself from the influence of her youth and assert herself promises to reveal some fine work by Miss Shirley. The piece is in four acts and a complete scenic production has been built for it.

SQUID AND OTHER FISH.

The fishermen seem to be squidding other than scupping, judging by reports all around. Today the Seakonnet River Oyster Company had five barrels of scup, some mackerel and one salmon. C. B. Anderson had 12 squid, four scup, some mackerel, some sea bass and some striped bass, the latter caught off here. C. A. Easterbrooks had four barrels of squid and some handsome roe shad. It seems needless to say that all had robins. Point Judith sent over 12 barrels of which one half-barrel was scup.

WIRELESS WORK ON VINEYARD SOUND LIGHTSHIP.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Miss Dorothy Lyons will leave tonight for a short visit to New York.

—Mr. Jasper Lynch is here today, looking after his property near the beach.

—Barge Mamie Frank is in, with a cargo of coal for Pinniger & Manchester Company.

—The Artillery flag seems to have the stay-up-all-the-time fever. It was up again today.

—Miss Josephine Delaney has returned to "Eagle Crest" after an extended visit to New York.

—Mr. Norman's relief map of the Panama canal now adorns the wall of the Aquidneck National Bank.

—Mrs. Peter G. Campbell entertained a number of friends at her home on Warner street, Friday evening.

—Lieutenant Frank R. McCrary, U. S. N., formerly at the Torpedo Station and now on special duty at Grayford, England, has been nominated for promotion to lieutenant commander.

—Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Mason arrived Friday night for the season and are at the Muenchinger-King. Their servants arrived this morning. Mr. Bertram Winthrop is also at the Muenchinger-King.

—The deed from Oliver W. Huntington to the city of Newport, for the strip of land on Third street, has been filed for record. This means that the city treasurer had paid the $5,000 agreed on and the first part of the widening has been done

—April 30 the passenger train service of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railway Company made a new low record in trains late. Out of [illegible] trains, only 97, or 4.8 per cent, were late. This is the lowest percentage since November 1, 1913. Out of the [illegible] trains late, four were through trains.

—Friday Deputy Chief Grinnell of Tiverton brought in two boys and two girls charged with a statutory offence, to which they all pleaded guilty and the judge imposed the usual fine, $10, with the usual Tiverton costs. This meant $16.20 each, but [illegible] available was only $6 [illegible] not free one of them, and so the whole party went to the workhouse. This trip will cost them $8.10 each, so that they reach the workhouse $24.30 in debt. This means a great many days of work at the rate allowed.

COMES ABOUT IN TEN SECONDS.

The Resolute, the latest Herreshoff cup defender, made her first visit to the ocean this noon. She came down from Bristol with her clubtopsail set and with the three lower sails in which she made her first trial last Saturday. Off Prudence a baby jibtopsail was sent up and there was some manoeuvring of the boat to observe her action when underway. It is reported from Bristol that she came about in 10 seconds several times.

The wind was a fair breeze, which heeled the boat over slightly on the beat down. Captain Brad Ricketson said the Resolute could go as fast as the Squantum, which [illegible] her was to Newport [illegible] the Resolute was beating [illegible]. To those ashore it seemed that the wind was a trifle light.

Passing out past Fort Adams about 11:50, the Resolute came about when just below Castle Hill, where she made her first bow to old Atlantic. It was a bow, for the swell is still on outside, and every one knows it can be felt once a boat pokes her nose past the bell buoy. The boom was put to port and the spinnaker set to starboard and for the first time the yacht was running before the wind under full racing conditions—mainsail, clubtopsail, spinnaker, staysail, jib and baby jibtopsail.

Going up between the Torpedo Station and Jamestown the spinnaker and mainsail seemed to be drawing perfectly; not a wrinkle could be seen in the big belly of the spinnaker. The boom seemed almost at right angles to the centre of the yacht and the mainsail was drawing finely, and though there did not seem to be much wind the yacht just "ghosted" along about 12:30 the wind began to pick up a little, but by this time the Resolute was well above Rose Island on her way back to Bristol.

With everything drawing she makes a much prettier picture than she did last Saturday with only lower sails set. The clubtopsail, while not extending far above the topmast head or the end of the gaff, is still a big sail and adds greatly to the appearance of the yacht. The spinnaker certainly drew well, and a spinnaker drawing well is always a pretty sight. N. G. Herreshoff and C. F. Adams, 2d., were alternately at the wheel of the new yacht.

BASE BALL NOTES.

Rogers Game Postponed—Trojans and Newports Both to Play Sunday.

Rogers and St. George's had their second games of the week postponed Friday afternoon on account of the rain. For a while it was thought the play could be staged at the latter's field, and Manager Lawton of Rogers even went so far as to take over a taxicab full of players. Just after they had departed for Middletown a telephone call from Manager Norman of St. George's called off the game, and prevented the other players from making the journey. The postponed game will be played Monday afternoon at St. George's.

The Field Club was defeated by the Peerless Athletic Club, the score being 4-3, and the game being called on account of rain. Briggs was the main support of the Peerless. Batteries for the Field Club were Libby, MacDonald and Newman; for the Peerless Burns, Gallagher and Andriesse.

The Trojans will put a strong team in the field against Fall River Sunday, although it has been necessary to make two changes. Ormsby, the centre fielder, has been declared eligible at Brown and taken on the Varsity squad, which means that he can play only on that team. For his position an acceptable player has been secured, Jack Gilmore, who was at Seton Hall with Ralph O'Connell last spring and with the New Bedford team of the New England League during the latter part of the season. He is a hard hitter, fast on the bases and can be depended upon to look well after centre field.

Owing to rheumatism the attending physician has advised "Mike" Regan to give up base ball. He was to have pitched for the Trojans and his loss will be keenly felt. Regan had trouble with his heart three years ago and this fact probably had something to do with the doctor's decision. To take his place a clever worksman has been secured in Sullivan, the left-hender who beat the Trojans twice last season by scores of 2-1 and 2-0 in 12 innings. He is in great form, as he has been working on the Brown squad all the season but cannot play on the team owing to the fact that Brown has four pitchers this season who are exceptionally strong.

The remainder of the Trojan team will be the same as last week, and the All-Fall Rivers will present a strong line-up.

Pitted against the newly organized Newport team which will take the field in its first regular game of the season Sunday, will be the strong Training Station nine, which has been practicing steadily for the past few weeks. Several base ball stars who were at the Station when the sailors had one of the best teams in these parts are back again, and promise to give the Newports a surprise.

The Newport line-up has been already announced. The sailors will have Kenard, a man who has developed fast at the Station, on the mound, and Ramsay will do the receiving. Moore, Wally, Kenney and Alston will hold up the infield, while Riley, Slade, and Wilde will occupy the garden positions, with Burns and Brill as spare men.

COUNTY CAT CLUB BUSINESS.

The Newport County Cat Club met Friday afternoon with Mr. William Maher, with the president, Mrs. William M. Hughes, in the chair. One new member was admitted and there was a discussion of the proposed Massachusetts law taxing cats. The sentiment of the members being generally against such a measure. Miss Gertrude Ehrhardt read a paper by Miss Dorothy Champion, author of "Everybody's Cat Book," on "Colors that should not be crossed." Purple and white were adopted as the club colors. After the business meeting refreshments were served.

TEN JURORS IN THE BOX.

The Second Trial of Becker Halted Until Monday Morning.

NEW YORK, May 9.—With 10 jurors in the box, the trial of Charles Becker for the murder of Herman Rosenthal was halted today until Monday morning. Two jurors were in the box last evening but two were excused today and work was begun to select talesmen to fill their places. One man, Jesse G. V[illegible] was chosen, but the panel was exhausted before the twelfth man could be agreed upon. A new panel will be on hand Monday morning.

Paul D. Camars, who was chosen juror No. 5, was excused from duty after an interview with Justice Seabury at noon today. This again reduced the number of jurors to 10.

When court convened Justice Seabury announced that Jurors Edward E. Van Eman and Robert [illegible]xter had made special requests to be excused. They were accordingly excused. The court added that their dismissal in no way reflected on their integrity. They were excused for personal reasons, as has been done in several other instances since the trial started.

As [illegible] when court opened today [illegible] approval of Becker and [illegible] both of whom [illegible] up [illegible] as he was being [illegible] at the first trial Becker preferred men with families as jurors, but of the 12 men in the box today six are unmarried. The average age of the present jury is under 45 years, which is younger than the previous jury.

SHIP CAPTAIN'S STORY.

Massacre of 45 Peruvian Soldiers Reported from Iquitos.

NEW YORK, May 9.—Captain W. P. Aspinwall of steamer Gregory, which arrived yesterday from Iquitos, 2,500 miles up the Amazon, brought a story of a massacre of 45 Peruvian soldiers, all Indians, who had mutinied and killed their officers.

Captain Aspinwall gives the narrative on the authority of the man who carried out the executions, Captain Fernando Casabal, who was a passenger on his ship as far as Barbadoes. The 45 mutineers, when captured, were shackled together and taken out on the Napo river on a lighter in tow of a gunboat. Then, the story goes, a machine gun on the gunboat was turned on the prisoners and all were killed. Their bodies were thrown into the river.

LAUNCHING MONDAY AFTERNOON

BATH, Maine, May 9.—Preparations were completed today for releasing cup defense candidate Defiance down the ways to the water's edge, where she will remain until the hour of launching Monday afternoon. The cradle on which the sloop now rests was moved cautiously and was prevented from gaining momentum on the greased ways by a gigantic block and fall arrangement. The removal was expected to take about two hours.

The wire rigging for the mast was assembled this morning and it was planned to step the wooden topmast at once, so that this, with the mainmast, will be slung simultaneously. The big spreader was located on the mainmast but will not be attached until after the big spar has been stepped. This is a composite affair, having a steel truss with yellow pine tips, the length from end to end measuring 34 feet.

COAST BLOCKADED BY ICE.

Shipping Movements Around Newfoundland Demoralized.

ST. JOHN'S, Newfoundland, May 9.—An ice embargo has demoralized shipping movements along the Newfoundland coast for a fortnight. Steamer Sardinian, from Philadelphia for Glasgow, by way of this port, has been for two days in the ice off Cape Race waiting for a change of wind to open a passage through the floes. Steamer Pomeranian, laden for Liverpool, is held in the harbor. Steamer Digby, from Liverpool, managed to work her way into St. John's yesterday.

The entire coast north of here is blockaded by ice, which for 10 or 12 days has prevented steamer Tritonia reaching Botwood, a port on North Bay. The Tritonia's agents, commenting today on a report from the United States, that the steamer was in a dangerous position, said that no uneasiness was felt.

BISHOP PERRY SPEAKS.

New England Assembly, Brotherhood of St. Andrew in Providence.

PROVIDENCE, May 9.—Holy Communion, a prayer service, a business meeting and several conferences formed the program today of the twenty-sixth annual convention of the New England Assembly, Brotherhood of St. Andrew. One of the principal speakers was Bishop James DeWolf Perry, Jr., of this city. The election of officers was set for late in the day.

TURNED TOO ABRUPTLY.

Two German Army Lieutenants Killed While Landing Aeroplane.

STETTIN, Germany, May 9.—Lieutenants Faber and Kurtz, of the German army were killed today while attempting to make a landing here with their aeroplane, while on a flight from Schwerin to Rosen. The accident, apparently, was brought about by the pilot turning the machine too abruptly.

MAGNOLIA TREES IN BLOOM.

Tulips Looking Well, the Grass Green and Thermometer Well Up.

It rained a little more Friday; .58 of an inch according to the rain gauge. Though it was not really needed it brought the total for May up to 2.44 inches. To tell the truth, the farmers, the Water Works, the carpenters and gardeners, and every one but the umbrella and rubber men, could have dispensed with all that 2.44 inches and have felt better.

A year ago today, May 9, 1913, was Arbor day. Eight battleships, some submarines and tenders were in port; it seemed that the season had opened. Lilacs and horsechestnuts promised to be all gone by Decoration day, the tulips were in full bloom, the fishermen were pounding scup, and flies were being slaughtered in the spring clean-up campaign. But ice was higher.

The magnolia trees are in bloom. The one at the corner of Bellevue avenue and Old Beach road, on the Griswold place, that on Kay street, at the old Marin place, and the pink one in Dr. Robinson's yard on High street, are well blossomed out and in all their glory. Those at Mrs. Brown's on Coggeshall avenue are not yet fully opened, and the same applies to the little ones on the Keteltas estate on Spring street. The tulip tree on the Lawton property on Broadway is also well bloomed out.

The tulips look well, the trees are budding finely, and it will well repay one to take a walk Sunday and see how nature is trying to shake off the mantle of winter and take on the verdure of spring. The grass could not be greener or more abundant, and lawn mowers are at work all along the line.

This was the first day when the southwest wind seemed endurable, and even then the sun went into retirement in the afternoon, after it had boosted the thermometer up to 68 shortly after 1 o'clock.

STEAMERS REPORTED.

CAPE RACE, Newfoundland, May 9.—Mongolian, from Glasgow and Liverpool for St. John's and Halifax, 350 miles northeast at 11 p. m. May 8.

SABLE ISLAND, Nova Scotia, May 9.—Carpathia, from Fiume for New York, 573 miles east of Sandy Hook at 6 a. m., will dock 11 a. m. Monday.

"EAST AND WEST."

Unique Exposition on Missions at the First Presbyterian Church.

A unique exposition 'East and West' was given at the First Presbyterian Church Friday afternoon and evening by the Junior Brotherhood. The affair was in charge of Mr George Williamson, head of the missions department, assisted by Charles Morrison, Kenneth Morrison, John Sproul, Bradford Leys, Newcomb Rainsford and Francis Clarkson and others.

On one table missionary literature was for sale and orders were taken for magazines. Interdenominational charts illustrating home missions were also shown.

In the centre of the room were Chinese curios loaned for the occasion, work done by the North American Indians and a basket from the mission school in Porto Rico.

Mrs R D Franklin who was born in India was in charge of the India exhibit. Her father, Rev Miles Bronson D D, was the first white man to go to northern India in 1836 before the Suez canal was opened. His work was done under the [illegible] Board at Assam. At that time there was no written language, but Rev Mr Bronson compiled a dictionary.

Mr W D Goddard loaned Chinese articles brought by his father, who went to China at about the time Dr Bronson went to India.

In the rear of the room was an attractive Japanese tea garden arranged by Mr Hugh Williamson, the [illegible] being an imitation of the tea house recently built for Mrs O H P Belmont. The potted plants were brought from the Astor estate, where Mr Williamson is gardener. A pond with goldfish attracted much attention.

Tea was served by Miss Anna Algers, president of the Westminster Circle, a missionary organization of young women, assisted by the girls in Japanese costumes.

During the evening piano selections were rendered by Alister McIver and various postal card tours were shown on the projectoscope in charge of Bradford Leys.

AN INTERESTING TALK.

Dr Baldwin on Playgrounds and Other Subjects

At the Civic League House an interesting talk was given Friday evening by Dr Mary E Baldwin to the members of the League and their friends. By the aid of the bilopticon slides and post cards were shown upon a screen. Dr Baldwin gave views of fresh air schools, playgrounds, prize home gardens, clean up squads, Camp Fire Girls of Newport and other cities and of Yellowstone Park. She particularly emphasized the importance of trained supervisors for playgrounds. Refreshments were served by Mrs Charles S Slocum, assisted by members of the Camp Fires. This talk was the last in a series of entertainments given for Civic League members during the winter.

—Passersby this morning could see [illegible] that the big south window of the [illegible] plate glass [illegible] Friday night when an officer [illegible] the sound of breaking glass and going to the Titus building found the window broken. It was reported that three sailors were coming up Thames street and one of them pushed another against the glass. That the sailor escaped without being cut is a surprise.

NOVEL FEATURES IN SUFFRAGIST DISPLAY.

Pennsylvania Avenue Paraded With Flying Banners.

Congress Petitioned to Pass Bristow-Mondell Resolution.

WASHINGTON May 9—With banners flying ten bands playing and the women singing a marching song several thousand suffragists from various sections of the country today paraded along Pennsylvania avenue from Lafayette Square to the Capitol. There 31 of them, representing every state in the Union and assigned one to each Senator and Representative, presented to the members of Congress petitions asking the passage of the Bristow Mondell resolution calling for a federal constitutional amendment enfranchising women. Immense crowds viewed the procession along the route. When the Capitol was reached the bands were massed on the plaza before the east front where they played the March of the Women, composed by Dr Ethel Smyth of England, accompanying a chorus of 1000 women wearing robes of white with green stoles and fillets of green on their heads.

Trains arriving in the capital during the forenoon swelled the army of suffragists who have been gathering during the week until it was estimated that there were more than 5000 demonstrators here, and it was evident that the parade would be the greatest suffrage demonstration Washington has ever seen. Many of the delegations brought their fife and drum corps and marching squadrons of girls. Among the early arrivals was the Maryland delegation of 400 led by Mrs Donald P Hooker and Mrs George S Latimer, known as "the little general."

Unusual precautions had been taken by the police to prevent a repetition of the scenes of disorder which marked last year's parade. Re-inforcements of officers to handle the crowd along streets in the route of the parade were at their posts early in the day. At the Capitol awaiting the coming of the marchers were Senators Thomas, Bristow, Owen, Chamberlain, Poindexter, Sterling, Gallinger, Kenyon, Sutherland, Jones and Thompson and Representatives Mondell, Falconer, Stone, Rapley, Bryan of Washington, Sabath, Campbell, Knowland, Kahn, Keating and Madden.

The parade followed a mass meeting in a down-town theatre presided over by Mrs William Kent, wife of Representative Kent of California, and at which stirring addresses were made by Miss Caroline Lexow, field secretary of the Woman's Political Union of New York; Mrs Donald Hooker of Baltimore and Miss Lucy Burns of Brooklyn, vice chairman of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage under the auspices of which the demonstration was held. Among those occupying boxes at the meeting were Mrs O H P Belmont of New York; Mrs Florence Bayard Hilles of Wilmington, Del, daughter of President Wilson's Secretary of State; Miss Julia Lathrop, chief of the Federal Children's Bureau; Mrs Harriet Stanton Blatch of New York, daughter of the late Elizabeth Cady Stanton, one of the pioneer leaders in the suffrage movement; the Equal Franchise Society of Philadelphia; Mrs Antoinette Funk of Chicago and the Pennsylvania Men's League for Suffrage. A number of young women, many of them prominent in society, acted as ushers.

There were many novel features in the parade and the marching women were cheered loudly by the throngs that lined Pennsylvania avenue all the way from Lafayette Square opposite the White House to the Capitol. First and foremost was borne aloft a banner 30 feet wide bearing the inscription "We demand the passage of the Bristow-Mondell resolution." Then came the first section, the pageant division [illegible] typifying Youth and Hope which had been arranged under the direction of Mrs [illegible] Andrews, well known artist. Thousands of garlands of flowers were carried by the young women and children, the shades of the blossoms having been selected with an eye to harmonizing with the [illegible] purple white and gold. In this division also marched the [illegible] of 1000 led by Mrs Apollin [illegible] Blair, president of the Rubinstein Club of this city. Attractive as was this part of the parade it did not evoke any more enthusiasm or [illegible] from the onlookers than the cavalry section which came next and was commanded by Mrs Juliet Barrett Rublee of Washington, who also was the mounted grand marshal of the procession.

In advance of the cavalry came [illegible] even color bearers on horseback each carrying a purple, white and gold flag. At their head rode Miss Elsie Hill, daughter of former Representative Hill of Connecticut. Among the prominent cavalry women were Mrs Denver S Church, wife of Representative Church of California; Mrs Charles Forrest Curry, wife of another California Representative; Miss Mary Morgan of Washington, niece of [illegible] [illegible] forester; Mrs Alberta Hill, formerly of [illegible], now of New York and Miss [illegible] daughter of Representative Kent.

Mrs [illegible] O'Dell was chairman of [illegible] political division which was next in line and which was subdivided into various sections. The [illegible] the women writers [illegible] by Mrs Mary [illegible] of Washington [illegible] were Mrs Zona Gale of Wisconsin, Edna Kenton, Helen Reimer Snyder Martin, Mrs Adelaide Fairbanks Timmons, daughter of Former Vice-President Fairbanks, and wife of Lieutenant Timmons, U S N; Mrs Rheta Childe Dorr, Marguerite Spaulding Gerry of New York, Alice Duer Miller and Roberta Bradshaw. Among the actresses Hattie Williams, Annie Bussert and Mrs Harry Kealty Clagett were conspicuous.

Other groups included college women farmers, waitresses, saleswomen, laundresses, women printers, stenographers, social workers, seamstresses, artists, physicians, dentists, nurses, lawyers, teachers, taxpayers and homemakers, the latter section organized by Mrs Harvey W Wiley of Washington, wife of the noted pure food expert.

An interesting feature was a large delegation of women voters from the ten states where members of the fair sex are now allowed to cast the ballot. Walking at the head of this contingent was Dr Cora Smith King of Seattle, Washington, treasurer of the National Council of Women Voters. Bringing up the rear of the parade were hundreds of women under the banners of seperate states.

WILL REACH MOBILE SUNDAY.

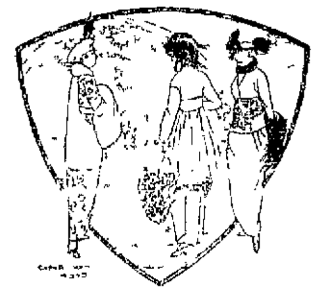

German and American Refugees on the Ypiranga at Quarantine.

MOBILE Ala May 9—On board Hamburg-American liner Ypiranga which is now in quarantine off Fort Morgan are 190 German and American refugees. Among them is Count De Barbiere, first attache of the French legation in Mexico City. The Ypiranga will reach Mobile Sunday. It will take $71,000 of foodstuffs back to the German warships in Mexican waters. Many of the refugees are in a destitute condition. The Ypiranga still has on board the rifles and 10,000,000 rounds of ammunition which she was about to land at Vera Cruz when Americans captured the city.

HAIR CAME OUT BY HANDFULS

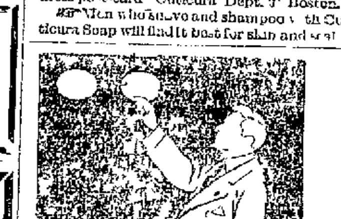

Eczema on Head, Dandruff Scaled Off, Itched and Burned. Scratched and Made Sores. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Completely Cured.

R F D No 5 Brower Mo — "I had been troubled with eczema on my head for a year. At first it came on in the form of dandruff which scaled off and showed plainly in my hair and then there was a rash that itched and burned and would wake me from my sleep. I scratched and made sores that would bleed. My hair came out by handfuls and was thin and dry.

I used several kinds of soap without getting any relief. At last I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment applying the Cuticura Ointment at night and washing my head in the morning with Cuticura Soap and warm water and after the first time using them the itching and burning stopped. After using Cuticura Soap and Ointment one month my head was completely cured and my hair began to grow out again." (Signed) Miss Annie E Williamson, Nov 7 1912.

The regular use of Cuticura Soap for toilet and bath not only tends to preserve, purify and beautify the skin, scalp, hair and hands, but assists in preventing inflammation, irritation and clogging of the pores, the common cause of pimples, blackheads, redness and roughness, yellow, oily, mothy and other unwholesome conditions of the skin. Cuticura Soap (25c) and Cuticura Ointment (50c) are sold by druggists and dealers throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."
Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

Unique Exposition on Missions at the First Presbyterian Church.

A unique exposition, "East and West," was given at the First Presbyterian Church Friday afternoon and evening by the Junior Brotherhood. The affair was in charge of Mr. George Williamson, head of the missions department, assisted by Charles Morrison, Kenneth Morrison, John Sproul, Bradford Leys, Newcomb, Hainsford and Francis Clarkson and others.

On one table missionary literature was for sale and orders were taken for magazines. Interdenominational charts illustrating home missions were also shown.

In the centre of the room were Chinese curios loaned for the occasion, work done by the North American Indians and a basket from the mission school in Porto Rico.

Mrs. R. D. Franklin, who was born in India, was in charge of the India exhibit. Her father, Rev. Miles Bronson, D. D., was the first white man to go to northern India in 1836, before the Suez canal was opened. His work was done under the Baptist Board at Assam. At that time there was no written language, but Rev. Mr. Bronson compiled a dictionary.

Mr. W. D. Goddard loaned Chinese articles brought by his father, who went to China at about the time Dr. Bronson went to India.

In the rear of the room was an attractive Japanese tea garden, arranged by Mr. Hugh Williamson, the pagoda being an imitation of the tea house recently built for Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont. The potted plants were brought from the Astor estate, where Mr. Williamson is gardener. A pond with goldfish attracted much attention.

Tea was served by Miss Anna Alger, president of the Westminster Circle, a missionary organization of young women, assisted by the girls in Japanese costumes.

During the evening piano selections were rendered by Alister MacIver and various postal card tours were shown on the projectoscope, in charge of Bradford Leys.

AN INTERESTING TALK.

Dr. Baldwin on Playgrounds and Other Subjects.

At the Civic League House an interesting talk was given Friday evening by Dr. Mary E. Baldwin to the members of the League and their friends. By the aid of the baloptican slides and post cards shown upon a screen. Dr. Baldwin gave views of fresh air schools, playgrounds, prize home gardens, clean-up squads, Camp Fire Girls of Newport and other cities, and of Yellowstone Park. She particularly emphasized the importance of trained supervisors for playgrounds. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Charles S. Slocum, assisted by members of the Camp Fires. This talk was the last in a series of entertainments given for Civic League members during the winter.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Mrs. Julia H. Eldridge has arrived at her cottage at Ochre Point.

—Mrs. Frank A. Richardson left Friday evening for New York, to visit friends.

—The School Committee will hold its monthly meeting at the City Hall Monday evening.

—Mrs. William Grosvenor will come to her Newport residence, "Roslyn," the first of June.

—Dr. and Mrs. John J. Mason are at their summer residence, "Wabun," on Catherine street.

—Mrs. Harriet F. Brownell arrived today at her summer residence, "Sachuest Lodge," on Indian avenue.

—Mr. Peleg Bryer Friday quietly celebrated his eighty third birthday at his home on Calvert and Ashburst streets.

—Mr. and Mrs. John R. Abney, Mrs. James Griswold Wentz and Mr. Hamilton B. Tompkins arrived Friday afternoon from New York.

—Colonial Council, Royal Arcanum, initiated three new members and received two applications Friday evening. The representatives to the recent Grand Council session made their reports.

—The police report this morning was light. One man charged with drunkenness was on the roll. He did not have the cash, so the population of the Newport County jail was increased one.

—Miss Mary Van Buren Vanderpoel of New York, who occupied the Hartshorn cottage, Halldon Hill, last summer, has taken another lease of the cottage and will occupy it during the coming season.

—Mrs. William Byrnes, accompanied by her daughter Margaret, and Miss Irene Mack, have arrived for the summer, after spending the winter in Pittsburgh. During their absence they visited relatives and friends in New York.

—The Ministers' Union will hold its next meeting Monday, May 18, at the Middletown Methodist Episcopal Church. Rev. F. W. Goodman, rector of Holy Cross and St. Mary's churches, will give an illustrated talk on his missionary work in Alaska.

—Among the passengers on steamship Olympic, which left New York today for Europe, arch Mr. and Mrs. W. Storis Wells, Mrs. Ogden Goelet, Mr and Mrs. Philip W. Livermore, Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Minott, Mrs. George A. Hahn, Jr., and Mr. George Holt Strawbridge.

—Mr. Charles P. Webber, brother of Mr. F. P. Webber of the Rogers High School, was among the refugees from Tampico, Mexico, on collier Cyclops, which arrived at Galveston April 28. He has been in Mexico several years, in connection with the railroad business.

—Chief Clerk John F. Sullivan and Clerk Harold S. Brown of the Torpedo Station have gone to Philadelphia to attend the session of the National Association of United States Civil Service Employes of Naval Stations and Navy Yards. Mr. Sullivan is serving a second year as president of the national association and Mr. Brown as a delegate from the local body.

—Passers-by this morning could scarce refrain to note that the big south window of the Times shop had a badly broken pane of glass. It was about 10:30 Friday night when an officer heard the sound of breaking glass and going to the Times building found the window broken. It was reported that three sailors were coming up Thames street and one of them pushed another against the glass. That the sailor escaped without being cut is a surprise.

NOVEL FEATURES IN SUFFRAGIST DISPLAY.

Pennsylvania Avenue Paraded With Flying Banners.

Congress Petitioned to Pass Bristow-Mondell Resolution.

WASHINGTON, May 9.—With banners flying, ten bands playing and the women singing a marching song, several thousand suffragists from various sections of the country today paraded along Pennsylvania avenue from Lafayette Square to the Capitol. There 321 of them, representing every state in the Union, and assigned one to each Senator and Representative, presented to the members of Congress petitions asking the passage of the Bristow-Mondell resolution calling for a federal constitutional amendment enfranchising women. Immense crowds viewed the procession along the route. When the Capitol was reached the bands were massed on the plaza before the east front, where they played the "March of the Women" composed by Dr. Ethel Smyth of England, accompanying a chorus of 1,000 women, wearing robes of white with green stoles and fillets of green on their heads.

Trains arriving in the capital during the forenoon swelled the army of suffragists, who have been gathering during the week, until it was estimated that there were more than 5,000 demonstrators here, and it was evident that the parade would be the greatest "suffrage demonstration Washington has ever seen. Many of the delegations brought their life and drum corps and marching squadrons of girls. Among the early arrivals was the Maryland delegation of 400 led by Mrs. Donald P. Hooker and Mrs. George S. Latimer, known as "the little general."

Unusual precautions had been taken by the police to prevent a repetition of the scenes of disorder which marked last year's parade. Re-inforcements of officers to handle the crowd along streets in the route of the parade were at their posts early in the day. At the Capitol, awaiting the coming of the marchers were Senators Thomas, Bristow, Owen, Chamberlain, Poindexter, Sterling, Gallinger, Kenyon, Sutherland, Jones and Thompson; and Representatives Mondell, Falconer, Stone, Rapley, Bryan of Washington, Sabath, Campbell, Knowland, Kahn, Keating and Madden.

The parade followed a mass meeting in a down-town theatre presided over by Mrs. William Kent, wife of Representative Kent of California, and at which stirring addresses were made by Miss Caroline Lexow, field secretary of the Woman's Political Union of New York; Mrs. Donald Hooker of Baltimore, and Miss Lucy Burns of Brooklyn, vice chairman of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage, under the auspices of which the demonstration was held. Among those occupying boxes at the meeting were Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont of New York, Mrs. Florence Bayard Hilles of Wilmington, Del., daughter of President Wilson's Secretary of State; Miss Julia Lathrop, chief of the Federal Children's Bureau; Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch of New York, daughter of the late Elizabeth Cady Stanton, one of the pioneer leaders in the suffrage movement; the Equal Franchise Society of Philadelphia; Mrs. Antoinette Funk of Chicago, and the Pennsylvania Men's League for Suffrage. A number of young women, many of them prominent in society, acted as ushers.

There were many novel features in the parade and the marching women were cheered loudly by the throngs that lined Pennsylvania avenue all the way from Lafayette Square, opposite the White House, to the Capitol. First and foremost was borne aloft a banner, 20 feet wide, bearing the inscription: "We demand the passage of the Bristow-Mondell resolution." Then came the first section, the pageant division, typifying Spring, Youth and Hope, which had been arranged under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth Andrews, a well-known artist. Thousands of garlands of flowers were carried by the young women and children, the shades of the blossoms having been selected with an eye to harmonizing with the union's colors, purple, white and gold. In this division also marched the chorus of 1,000 led by Mrs. Apolline M. Blair, president of the Rubinstein Club of this city. Attractive as was this part of the parade, it did not evoke any more enthusiasm or interest from the onlookers than the cavalry section which came next and was commanded by Mrs. Juliet Barrett Rublee of Washington, who also was the mounted grand marshal of the procession.

In advance of the cavalry contingent were seven color bearers on horseback, each carrying a purple, white and gold flag. At their head rode Miss Elsie Hill, daughter of former Representative Hill of Connecticut. Among the prominent cavalrywomen were Mrs. Denver S. Church, wife of Representative Church of California; Mrs. Charles Forrest Curry, wife of another California Representative; Miss Mary Morgan of Washington, niece of Gifford Pinchot, former chief forester; Miss Alberta Hill, formerly of Australia now of New York, and Miss Elizabeth Kent, daughter of Representative Kent.

Mrs. George Odell was chairman of the foot marshals of the political division, which was next in line, and which was subdivided into various sections. The sections creating the most interest were those of the women writers and the actresses. The former was organized by Mrs. Marie Manning Grisch of Washington, and among those who trudged with her were Mrs. Zona Gale of Wisconsin, Edna Kenton, Helen Reimer Snyder Martin, Mrs. Adelaide Fairbanks Timmons, daughter of Former Vice-President Fairbanks, and wife of Lieutenant Timmons, U. S. N.; Mrs. Rheta Childe Dorr, Marguerite Spaulding Gerry of New York, Alice Duer Miller and Roberta Bradshaw. Among the actresses Hattie Williams, Annie Russell and Mrs. Harry Keuly Clagett were conspicuous.

Other groups included college women, farmers, waitresses, saleswomen, laundresses, women printers, stenographers, social workers, seamstresses, artists, physicians, dentists, nurses, lawyers, teachers, taxpayers and homemakers, the latter section organized by Mrs. Harvey W. Wiley of Washington, wife of the noted pure food expert.

An interesting feature was a large delegation of women voters from the ten states where members of the fair sex are now allowed to cast the ballot. Walking at the head of this contingent was Dr. Cora Smith King of Seattle, Washington, treasurer of the National Council of Women Voters. Bringing up the rear of the parade were hundreds of women under the banners of seperate states.

WILL REACH MOBILE SUNDAY.

German and American Refugees on the Ypiranga at Quarantine.

MOBILE, Ala., May 9.—On board Hamburg-American liner Ypiranga, which is now in quarantine off Fort Morgan, are 190 German and American refugees. Among them is Count De Barbiere, first attache of the French legation in Mexico City. The Ypiranga will reach Mobile Sunday. It will take $75,000 of foodstuffs back to the German warships in Mexican waters. Many of the refugees are in a destitute condition. The Ypiranga still has on board the rifles and 10,000,000 rounds of ammunition which she was about to land at Vera Cruz when Americans captured the city.

HAIR CAME OUT BY HANDFULS

Eczema on Head. Dandruff Scaled Off. Itched and Burned. Scratched and Made Sores. Cuticura Soap and Ointment Completely Cured.

R. F. D. No. 5, Drawer, Mo. — "I had been troubled with eczema on my head for a year. At first it came on in the form of dandruff which scaled off and showed plainly in my hair and then there was a rash that itched and burned and would wake me from my sleep. I scratched and made sores that would bleed. My hair came out by handfuls and was thin and dry.

"I used several kinds of soap without getting any relief. At last I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment, applying the Cuticura Ointment at night and washing my head in the morning with Cuticura Soap and warm water and after the first time using them the itching and burning stopped. After using Cuticura Soap and Ointment one month my head was completely cured and my hair began to grow out again." (Signed) Miss Annie E. Williamson, Nov. 7, 1912.

The regular use of Cuticura Soap for toilet and bath not only tends to preserve, purify and beautify the skin, scalp, hair and hands, but assists in preventing inflammation, irritation and clogging of the pores, the common cause of pimples, blackheads, redness and roughness, yellow, oily, mothy and other unwholesome conditions of the skin. Cuticura Soap (25c.) and Cuticura Ointment (50c.) are sold by druggists and dealers throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

ers. The machine was next given a road run, which enabled the visitors to see the town and also showed the road-climbing abilities of this piece of apparatus, for the city is full of steep, winding roads. A short run was also made out into the country, to show what it could do for speed. It was on the speed run that the chief of the Marblehead department was met and invited the committee to come over and see what he had to show. The offer was declined for lack of time.

Back at the fire station, Chief Cahoon was cross-examined. He has been chief more than a quarter of a century, but is strong for the new methods when they prove their worth. He said that the coming of the piece of apparatus just tried retired five horses and three call men from the department. It had increased the efficiency of the department and had given no trouble even in the severest winter weather, though called out three times one night when the temperature was 16 below and a blizzard was raging. The department uses the Volunteer brand of hose, which is liked better than the wax-treated, and some of it used under pressure at the test had been in the department 16 or 17 years. The chief gave the committee much enlightenment on the subject of fire fighting as it is practiced in large departments, being a man who seemed to be quite a student of the art, even though his department is not a large one.

As the committee started for the railroad station it began to sprinkle, and on arrival in Boston the first real rain was encountered instead of continuing on to Brookline, it was decided to catch the short train for home.

The committee learned in Boston that there is being delivered in Hartford today an automatic pumper guaranteed for 1,400 gallons and expected to pump 1,500 gallons. It has been purchased to be used in emergencies, and to be able to throw as much water on a fire as this single piece of apparatus. Newport would need to purchase a few more steamers like the present.

FINANCIAL.

NEW YORK, May 9, Wall Street—The market opened with Amalgamated Copper 70½, American Smelting and Refining 80½, American Sugar Refining 102⅞, Anaconda 31½, Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe 93¾, Baltimore & Ohio 89⅝, Brooklyn Rapid Transit 91¾, Canadian Pacific 189⅜, Consolidated Gas 131, Erie 27⅜, Missouri Pacific 15¾, New York Central 91, Northern Pacific 108½, Pennsylvania 109½, Reading 166, Southern Pacific 90½, Union Pacific 157⅞, United States Steel 58¾, Western Union 61½, Westinghouse Electric 73½.

Noon—The market closed strong. After a brief period of heaviness in the early dealings the movement was steadily upward, and at the end of the half-day session prices were fractionally above yesterday's close. Absence of large offerings of long stock on the early decline induced more general short covering, which was supplemented by outside buying. Support extended to Missouri Pacific, Chesapeake & Ohio, and other issues which have been weak of late steadied the whole list. Engagement of $1,000,000 more gold for Paris had little effect on the market. Bonds were irregular. Rock Island bonds were active and gained ½ to 1½ points. Call money, nominal. Time loans, firmer; 60 and 90 days, 2½; 6 months 3. Mercantile paper, 3¼ and 3¾. Sterling exchange, firm, for 60 day bills $4.85 15; for demand, $4.87.95; commercial bills, $4.84¾. Bar silver, 58⅞. Mexican dollars, 45¾. Government bonds, steady; railroad bonds, irregular. Exchanges, $273,105,886; balances, $17,763,355. For the week—Exchanges, $1,736,452,124; balances, $97,888,575.

FINANCIAL.

NEW YORK, May 9, Wall Street—The market opened with Amalgamated Copper 70½, American Smelting and Refining 60½, American Sugar Refining 102⅞, Anaconda 31½, Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe 93¾, Baltimore & Ohio 89¾, Brooklyn Rapid Transit 91⅜, Canadian Pacific 189⅞, Consolidated Gas 131, Erie 27⅜, Missouri Pacific 15⅝, New York Central 91, Northern Pacific 108¼, Pennsylvania 109½, Reading 163, Southern Pacific 90¼, Union Pacific 153⅝, United States Steel 58¾, Western Union 61½, Westinghouse Electric 73½.

Noon—The market closed strong. After a brief period of heaviness in the early dealings the movement was steadily upward, and at the end of the half-day session prices were fractionally above yesterday's close. Absence of large offerings of long stock on the early decline induced more general short covering, which was supplemented by outside buying. Support extended to Missouri Pacific, Chesapeake & Ohio, and other issues which have been weak of late steadied the whole list. Engagement of $1,000,000 more gold for Paris had little effect on the market. Bonds were irregular. Rock Island bonds were active and gained ½ to 1½ points. Call money, nominal. Time loans, firmer; 60 and 90 days, 2½; 6 months 3. Mercantile paper, 3¼ and 3¾. Sterling exchange, firm, for 60 day bills $4.85.15; for demand, $4.87.95; commercial bills, $4.84¾. Bar silver, 58⅞. Mexican dollars, 45¾. Government bonds, steady; railroad bonds, irregular. Exchanges, $273,105,886; balances, $17,763,350. For the week—Exchanges, $1,736,452,-121; balances, $97,888,515.

A WASTE OF POSTAGE.

The Park Commission Not to Build Touro Park Public Convenience

Chairman Shepley of the Park Commission Friday received two letters one from former Mayor [illegible] and one from Dr [illegible] protesting against the location of a public convenience in Touro park He has since received [illegible] and expects to be [illegible] [illegible] now that [illegible] At the same time he wishes people to understand that writing to him in regard to this is simply wasting postage The Park Commission and William Shepley chairman have nothing whatever to do with that public convenience [illegible] did not even suggest it What the Park Commission suggested was the building of three public conveniences one each in [illegible] and Morton parks at a cost of $1000 each The Committee of Twenty Five recommended that one be built Touro park was selected as the most central and where a public convenience would be [illegible] and most needed and [illegible] was appropriated for doing this work This was all done at the [illegible] of the Council which ratified the recommendations of the Committee of Twenty Five held March [illegible] The Board of Aldermen is the body [illegible] to build the public convenience not the Park Commission

ONE COMMITTEEMAN CONVERTED.

Exhibitions and Information Gained at Lynn and Swampscott a Revelation.

Newport Party Has a Busy Day Inspecting Modern Fire Fighting Machines.

If Newport really means to modernize its fire department the small expense which the committee on re-organization incurred Friday in its visit to Lynn and Swampscott will be money well expended The committee was fortunate in having as one of its members on the trip one who frankly stated that he did not believe anything was to be learned by going away from Newport but he was just as frank on his return in stating that it had been a very profitable day and a great deal had been learned about fire department matters What he saw was a revelation to him and the real fire streams which the committee saw would have been a revelation to almost any man in the Newport department

The committee went for information and certainly secured it both in Lynn and in Swampscott What the members saw in exhibitions made for them was only incidental to what they learned from Chief Chase of Lynn and Chief Cahoon of Swampscott which is really a suburb of Lynn Part of the information came from questioning of the chiefs and part they freely volunteered as it was apparent to the hosts that the committeemen were really seeking knowledge

Chief Cahoon has been into Lynn three times in as many months on [illegible] telling of the work his pumper has done on big fires [illegible] one of the water guns This opened a discussion of the value of the water gun and during this a man who has had wide experience in the Boston department and is extensively acquainted with fire matters throughout the East declared unequivocally that the water gun is the greatest development [illegible] in fire fighting implements [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] hard day for the committee [illegible] left at [illegible] in the morning and did not return until the boat [illegible] They were on the move [illegible] and did not have time [illegible] until they were on the [illegible] Clerk Callahan kept extensive [illegible] of the information poured out [illegible] the committee and his record will be available for use in future deliberations and an aid when they make up their report some months hence Even though leaving Newport at an early hour when [illegible] the committee changed to the steamboat train in order to make better time in arriving at Boston They were able to reach Lynn at 10 o'clock and when they stepped out of the depot saw the ruins of a fire which had caused the department hard work during the night [illegible] headquarters was the first place visited and there they found Chief [illegible] and his assistants waiting [illegible]

In the chief's quarters [illegible] was taken to [illegible] the [illegible] of other city officials Chairman [illegible] came down to business at once and began asking questions [illegible] [illegible]

[illegible] water mains are large and Chief Chase says there is never a lack of water for the engines The Boston woven hose is used as it is cheaper than many other brands and gives good wear

The fire stations are about a mile and a quarter apart and no part of the city is more than two and a half miles from the nearest station The pay roll of the department is $128 000 and the fire alarm is in charge of an official who also has control of the police system and is superintendent of all wires his department being a separate one He is putting all wires under ground as fast as possible and is proud of the streets which he has cleared up The city is purchasing some new apparatus but principally is providing its steamers and ladder trucks with tractors and placing the bodies of the former hose wagons on motor trucks

Soon other officials began to arrive In the absence of the mayor from town, Mr Sullivan his secretary saw that the full hospitality of the city was accorded and the way things were done showed that hospitality is not only in the hearts of the Lynn people but that they know how to extend it The superintendents of buildings and of electric wires the secretary of the Board of Trade and others joined the group several city automobiles were lined up beside the station and in these the party found seats

There was first a ride which enabled the visitors to gain some idea of the layout of the city and the conditions with which the firemen contend A stop was made at fire alarm headquarters where this plant was inspected It is now the Gamewell system altered from another but the operating room shows that that company has received a large amount of money for installing elaborate apparatus in a building which is not fire-proof In the building is also located Engine 6 and the visitors left on the automobile tender of the engine

The ride was to a distant part of the city to a pond which has recently been added to the parkway system Automobile engine 2 joined the party on the route and here the pumping was done One and two streams were used and finally the two were connected with the water gun on the Engine 6 tender An inch and a-half nozzle was used and a stream was thrown with 86 pounds pressure at the nozzle with a delivery of more than 600 gallons a minute One man stood on the wagon and elevated depressed and swung the stream in any direction without effort The work which such a stream would do on a fire was apparent to all who saw it There were connections on the gun for two other lines of hose, and with these it could deliver a stream which would nearly equal the Newport department's entire pumping capacity and would have mowed a furrow through such a fire as was experienced at the last burning of the Weaver building The Ahrens Fox pumper worked beautifully for a full hour

The order to pick up was given and then came the hill climbing test with the visitors on board the machine Though it was such a long and steep hill there was no running start but the heavy piece of apparatus just began to climb Halfway up it stopped but the brakes held and when it was found that the whole trouble lay in a little nervousness of the operator and not giving the machine enough gas in the start was made It went right up the heavy grade and topped the worst part of the hill without another murmur The machine was run around a series of streets which were all heavy up and down grades and then returned to take a long coast down the hill It was an excellent showing of the machine throughout

The visitors were then taken to a restaurant where the whole party was seated at a long table and word was passed by the mayor's representative to go as far as one liked in ordering

Dinner over it was practically time to be in Swampscott The automobiles were entered again for a dash through a little more of the city to Lynn beach and the state boulevard Thence the start was followed to the cottage colony where the Newporters were turned over to Chief Cahoon

The American La France machine was run out and from a hydrant gave a fine exhibition of pumping, ending with throwing three inch-and-a-quarter streams either of which exceeded one from the Newport steam

LOCAL PLANT TO HAVE FULL SHARE.

Torpedo Station Must be Kept Going at Full Blast on Contract Orders.

Provision of Naval Appropriation Bill for Industrial Establishments Includes Newport.

In the naval appropriation bill, which passed the House of Representatives Thursday, is the following paragraph "Of each of the sums appropriated by this act, except such amounts as may be required to meet obligations authorized in previous acts and for which contracts have been made, no part shall be used to procure through purchase or contract any vessels, armament, articles or materials which the navy yards, gun factories or other industrial plants operated by the Navy Department are equiped to supply, unless such government plants are operated approximately at their full capacity for not less than one regular shift each working day, except when contract costs are less than costs in said government plats and except when said government plants are unable to complete the work within the time required, and except in cases of emergency"

Congressman O'Shaunessy says this provision will eliminate any fear that the Torpedo Station here will not have its full share of the million-dollar appropriation for torpedoes The provision will compel the Secretary of the Navy to keep the Station going at full blast especially in view of the testimony of Admiral Straus before the naval affairs committee last January when he stated that the Station can manufacture torpedoes 30 per cent cheaper than they can be manufactured in private plants While the paragraph does not specifically mention the Torpedo Station nevertheless Congressman O'Shaunessy has been informed that "industrial plants" includes the local Station otherwise it was the intention of the Congressman to offer an amendment to the paragraph to include the Station here

RURAL ROUTE AUTHORIZED.

Better Mail Service for Jamestown Assured Congressman O'Shaunessy.

Congressman George F O'Shaunessy has received the following letter from the Postoffice Department regarding the establishment of a rural delivery at Jamestown

Hon George F O'Shaunessy, House of Representatives.

My dear Mr O'Shaunessy

Referring further to your call at the department on October 1, 1913, relative to the question of establishing rural delivery service at Jamestown, R I, as desired by Rear Admiral E D Taussig and others, I beg to inform you that the establishment of rural route No. 1 from that office, effective June 1, 1914, has been authorized by the Postmaster General

Sincerely yours,
M M McLean
Acting Fourth Assistant Postmaster General

First Assistant Postmaster General Daniel J Roper several weeks ago favored the establishment of the new rural route in Jamestown, but it needed to be ratified by the Postmaster General and this letter, received by the Congressman Friday, informs him of the result of his personal visit to the Department for the purpose of securing better mail service for Jamestown

FOR REV. JOSEPH COOPER.

Large Attendance at Brockton Church Reception Despite Rainy Weather.

Rev. Joseph Cooper, former pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal Church of this city, was Friday evening given a reception by the members of the church and congregation of the Central Methodist Episcopal Church of Brockton, to which he was assigned at the recent session of the New England Southern Conference. There were about 250 persons present, a large number considering the stormy weather. Rev. Mr. Cooper and the members of his family were cordially received, the women being presented with handsome bouquets of flowers.

Mr. Charles A. Eaton, one of the leading manufacturers of Brockton, presided and spoke in behalf of the church. Mr. Cooper responding. The ministers of the three other Methodist churches of the city, Rev. Messrs. Annas, Perry and Leach, were also present. Rev. J. Francis Cooper, D. D., formerly pastor of the church and now district superintendent, was present with Mrs. Cooper and was presented with a large photograph of himself, which according to the custom of the church was hung in the social parlors. A patriotic celebration followed the speech-making.

FOR SUNDAY'S CONCERTS.

D'Avino's Band to Present Some of Best Known Operatic Music.

D'Avino's band, which is to give two concerts in the convention hall at the beach Sunday for the benefit of the St. Clare Home, is well known not only in Newport, where it played last summer at the beach, but throughout the musical world in the East. Signor D'Avino's musical skill as a director is widely recognized, he having recently conducted an organization of 400 at Mechanics hall, Boston, receiving hearty commendation from critics for his own work and that of his band.

The band will present several of the selections which attracted the greatest attention in Boston, including "The Hymn to the Sun" from Mascagni's opera, "Iris"; "The Dance of the Hours," from Ponchielli's opera, "La Gioconda"; the overture from Rossini's "Wilhelm Tell," selections from Puccinni's opera, "Madame Butterfly"; the barcarole from Offenbach's "Les Contes d'Hoffman," and selections from other grand operas. Programs which include selections by Verdi, Rossini, Ponchielli, Mascagni, Victor Herbert, Puccini and Offenbach will be worth hearing. The concerts will afford a rare opportunity for Newport music lovers to hear some of the best known operatic music presented by a thoroughly capable band, and at the same time to contribute to a worthy object, the St. Clare Home, which is doing an excellent work in the community. The programs for the two concerts are as follows:

Afternoon, Part I.

Grand March, from the opera "Aida" G. Verdi
Musical Scenes from Spain O. Langey
Vocal number, soprano.
Overture, "William Tell" G. Rossini

Part II.

Ballet, "Dance of the Hours," from "La Gioconda" A. Ponchielli
Overture, "Beauties of Erin." C. W. Bennet
Vocal number
"Hymn to the Sun," from the opera, "Iris" P. Mascagni

Evening, Part I.

Overture to Allieri's Saul A. Bazzini
Selection, "The Fortune Teller" V. Herbert
Vocal number
"Hymn to the Sun," from "Iris" P. Mascagni

Part II.

Selection from "Madama Butterfly" G. Puccini
Intermezzo II, from "The Jewels of the Madonna" Wolf-Ferrari
Barcarole, from "Les Contes D'Hoffman" J. Offenbach
Grand American Fantasie V. Herbert

A WASTE OF POSTAGE.

The Park Commission Not to Build Touro Park Public Convenience.

Chairman Shepley of the Park Commission Friday received two letters, one from former Mayor F. P. Garrettson and one from Dr. A. J. Anderson, protesting against the location of a public convenience in Touro park. He has since received three more, and expects to be the centre of a mail cyclone, now that some have started the ball in motion.

At the same time he wishes people to understand that writing to him in regard to this is simply wasting postage. The Park Commission and William Shepley, chairman, have nothing whatever to do about that public convenience; they did not even suggest it. What the Park Commission suggested was the building of three public conveniences—one each in Battery, Aquidneck and Morton parks—at a cost of $1,000 each. The Committee of Twenty-Five recommended that one be built, Touro park was selected as the most central and where a public convenience would be most used and most needed, and $1,850 was appropriated for doing this work. This was all done at the meeting of the Council which ratified the recommendations of the Committee of Twenty-Five, held March 12, 1914.

The Board of Aldermen is the body authorized to build the public conveniences, not the Park Commission.

ONE COMMITTEEMAN CONVERTED.

Exhibitions and Information Gained at Lynn and Swampscott a Revelation.

Newport Party Has a Busy Day Inspecting Modern Fire-Fighting Machines.

If Newport really means to modernize its fire department, the small expense which the committee on re-organization incurred Friday in its visit to Lynn and Swampscott will be money well expended. The committee was fortunate in having as one of its members on the trip one who frankly stated that he did not believe anything was to be learned by going away from Newport, but he was just as frank on his return in stating that it had been a very profitable day and a great deal had been learned about fire department matters. What he saw was a revelation to him and the real fire streams which the committee saw would have been a revelation to almost any man in the Newport department.

The committee went for information and certainly secured it, both in Lynn and in Swampscott. What the members saw in exhibitions made for them was only incidental to what they learned from Chief Chase of Lynn and Chief Cahoon of Swampscott, which is really a autogh of Lynn. Part of the information came from questioning of the chiefs and part they freely volunteered, as it was apparent to the hosts that the committeemen were really seeking knowledge.

Chief Cahoon has been into Lynn three times in as many months on general alarms, and in telling of the work his pumper has done on big fires there referred to his feeding one of the water guns. This opened a discussion of the value of the water gun, and during this a man who has had wide experience in the Boston department and is extensively acquainted with fire matters throughout the East declared unequivocally that the water gun is the greatest development of the age in fire-fighting implements. Asked if it would be of any value in Newport streets, he spoke of its introduction into Boston after years of protest. It had been contended that the streets were too narrow there for its use, but the first fire at which it was in service proved it to be of untold worth. The refusing of such a gun for Newport when the offer was made to throw it in with a piece of apparatus was said to have been a great mistake.

Circulating among the firemen who were met, it was not difficult to learn the Newport's department and the reputation outside its own city of being somewhat peculiar, in that it does not seem to be dispos d to be modern and progressive. A suggestion that ordinarily Newport does very well in putting out its fires with little loss only caused the comment that that might be, but the chances favor the coming of a time when there will be a fire at which the lack of modern facilities may prove tremendously costly.

It was a hard day for the committee, who left at 6:30 in the morning and did not return until the boat arrived at 9. They were on the move almost all day and did not have time for supper until they were on the boat. Clerk Callahan kept extensive notes of the information poured out to the committee and his record will be available for use in future deliberations and an aid when they make up their report, some months hence.

Even though leaving Newport at an early hour, when Fall River was reached the committee changed to the steamboat train, in order to make better time in arriving at Boston. They were able to reach Lynn at 10 o'clock, and when they stepped out of the depot saw a steamer at the rains of a fire which had caused the department hard work during the night. Fire headquaretsr was the first place visited and there they found Chief Chase and his assistants awaiting them.

In the chief's quarters, where the party was taken to await the gathering of other city officials, Chairman Beck came down to business at once and began asking questions. While it is not the purpose to try to give all the information this secured, it may be well to state that Lynn is a city of 95,000 inhabitants and large manufacturing interests. It had more than 350 bell alarms last year, or ten times as many as Newport. It has 10 fire stations, the same as Newport; 13 companies, only four more than Newport; 6 engines one more than Newport; 4 trucks, double Newport's number, and 5 chemicals, or three more than Newport. It has 5 engines in reserve and its department will be fully motorized by summer. The department comprises 86 permanent men and 51 call men. Its hydrant pressure ranges from 65 to 85 pounds. The water mains are large and Chief Chase says there is never a lack of water for the engines. The Boston woven hose is used, as it is cheaper than many other brands and gives good wear.

The fire stations are about a mile and a quarter apart and no part of the city is more than two and a half miles from the nearest station. The pay roll of the department is $128,000 and the fire alarm is in charge of an official who also has control of the police system and is superintendent of all wires, his department being a separate one. He is putting all wires under ground as fast as possible and as ground of the streets which he has cleared up. The city is purchasing some new apparatus, but principally is providing its steamers and ladder trucks with tractors and placing the bodies of the former hose wagons on motor trucks.

Soon other officials began to arrive. In the absence of the mayor from town, Mr. Sullivan, his secretary, saw that the full hospitality of the city was accorded, and the way things were done showed that hospitality is not only in the hearts of the Lynn people but that they know how to extend it. The superintendents of buildings and of electric wires, the secretary of the Board of Trade and others joined the group, several city automobiles were lined up beside the station and in these the party found seats.

There was first a ride which enabled the visitors to gain some idea of the layout of the city and the conditions with which the firemen contend. A stop was made at fire alarm headquarters, where this plant was inspected. It is now the Gamewell system, altered from another, but the operating room shows that that company has received a large amount of money for installing elaborate apparatus in a building which is not fireproof. In the building is also located Engine 6, and the visitors left on the automobile tender of the engine.

The ride was to a distant part of the city, to a pond which has recently been added to the parkway system. Automobile engine 2 joined the party on the route and here the pumping was done. One and two streams were used, and finally the two were connected with the water gun on the Engine 6 tender. An inch-and-a-half nozzle was used and a stream was thrown with 85 pounds pressure at the nozzle, with a delivery of more than 600 gallons a minute. One man stood on the wagon and elevated, depressed and swung the stream in any direction without effort. The work which such a stream would do on a fire was apparent to all who saw it. There were connections on the gun for two other lines of hose, and with these it could deliver a stream which would nearly equal the Newport department's entire pumping capacity and would have mowed a furrow through such a fire as was experienced at the last burning of the Weaver building. The Ahrens-Fox pumper worked beautifully for a full hour.

The order to pick up was given and then came the hill-climbing test, with the visitors on board the machine. Though it was such a long and steep hill, there was no running start, but the heavy piece of apparatus just began to climb. Halfway up it stopped but the brakes held, and when it was found that the whole trouble lay in a little nervousness of the operator, and not giving the machine enough gas another start was made. It went right up the heavy grade and topped the worst part of the hill without another murmur. The machine was run around a series of streets which were all heavy up and down grades, and then returned to take a long coast down the hill. It was an excellent showing of the machine thoughout.

The visitors were then taken to a restaurant, where the whole party was seated at a long table and word was passed by the mayor's representative to go as far as one liked in ordering.

Dinner over, it was practically time to be in Swampscott. The automobiles were entered again for a dash through a little more of the city to Lynn beach and the state boulevard. Thence the shore was followed to the cottage colony, where the Newporters were turned over to Chief Cahoon.

The American La France machine was run out and from a hydrant gave a fire exhibition of pumping, ending with throwing three inch-and-a-quarter streams, either of which exceeded one from the Newport steam-

LOCAL PLANT TO HAVE FULL SHARE.

In the naval appropriation bill, which passed the House of Representatives Thursday, is the following paragraph. "Of each of the sums appropriated by this act, except such amounts as may be required to meet obligations authorized in previous acts and for which contracts have been made, no part shall be used to procure through purchase or contract any vessels, armament, articles or materials which the navy yards, gun factories or other industrial plants operated by the Navy Department are equiped to supply, unless such government plants are operated approximately at their full capacity for not less than one regular shift each working day, except when contract costs are less than costs in said government plats, and except when said government plants are unable to complete the work within the time required, and except in cases of emergency."

Congressman O'Shaunessy says this provision will eliminate any fear that the Torpedo Station here will not have its full share of the million-dollar appropriation for torpedoes. The provision will compel the Secretary of the Navy to keep the Station going at full blast, especially in view of the testimony of Admiral Straus before the naval affairs committee last January, when he stated that the Station can manufacture torpedoes 30 per cent cheaper than they can be manufactured in private plants. While the paragraph does not specifically mention the Torpedo Station, nevertheless Congressman O'Shaunessy has been informed that "industrial plants" includes the local Station; otherwise it was the intention of the Congressman to offer an amendment to the paragraph to include the Station here.

RURAL ROUTE AUTHORIZED.

Better Mail Service for Jamestown Assured Congressman O'Shaunessy.

Congressman George F. O'Shaunessy has received the following letter from the Postoffice Department regarding the establishment of a rural delivery at Jamestown:

Hon. George F. O'Shaunessy, House of Representatives.

My dear Mr. O'Shaunessy:

Referring further to your call at the Department on October 1, 1913, relative to the question of establishing rural delivery service at Jamestown, R. I., as desired by Rear Admiral B. D. Taussig and others, I beg to inform you that the establishment of rural route No. 1 from that office, effective June 1, 1914, has been authorized by the Postmaster General.

Sincerely yours,
M. M. McLean
Acting Fourth Assistant Postmaster General.

First Assistant Postmaster General Daniel J. Roper several weeks ago favored the establishment of the new rural route in Jamestown, but it needed to be ratified by the Postmaster General and this letter, received by the Congressman Friday, informs him of the result of his personal visit to the Department for the purpose of securing better mail service for Jamestown.
